

H5SG 04 (SCDHSC0348) — Support Individuals To Access Learning, Training and Development Opportunities

Overview

This standard identifies the requirements when supporting individuals to prepare for and undertake learning, training and development opportunities. This includes working with individuals to identify their preferences and needs about opportunities for them to learn and develop and helping them to seek and apply for such opportunities. It also includes supporting individuals to prepare for visits and interviews and to prepare for undertaking the activity itself.

Additional Information

Scope/range related to Performance Criteria

The details in this field are explanatory statements of scope and/or examples of possible contexts in which the NOS may apply; they are not to be regarded as range statements required for achievement of the NOS.

NOTE: Where an individual finds it difficult or impossible to express their own preferences and make decisions about their life, achievement of this standard may require the involvement of advocates or others who are able to represent the views and best interests of the individual.

Where there are language differences within the work setting, achievement of this standard may require the involvement of interpreters or translation services.

Active participation is a way of working that regards individuals as active partners in their own care or support rather than passive recipients. Active participation recognises each individual's right to participate in the activities and relationships of everyday life as independently as possible.

Circumstances may include leaving foster care or residential care; sudden and acute illness or disability which could require the individual to retrain or make a career change; anticipated changes or deterioration in health and wellbeing; improvements in health and wellbeing that make learning or employment possible when it has not been before; the individual's physical, mental, emotional needs in the short, medium or long term.

To communicate may include using the individual's preferred spoken language, the use of signs, symbols, pictures, writing, objects of reference, communication passports, other non-verbal forms of communication, human and technological aids to communication.

The individual is the adult, child or young person you support or care for in your work.

Information could be verbal, written or electronic and needs to be in a format that is accessible to the individual.

Learning, training and development opportunities include programmes to enable the individual to learn, develop and maximise their own potential and independence and could include any type of training, educational programmes and personal development programmes.

Relevant documents may include records about the individual's needs and circumstances that could affect their capacity to succeed in training, learning and development opportunities; the types of training, learning and development opportunities available; how to apply for these; examples of people with similar needs and circumstances who have succeeded in taking up and maintaining training, learning and development; how to access additional support needed to enable individuals to seek, take up and succeed in training, learning and development opportunities.
