Introduction

This catalogue lists all Higher National Units. It includes both nationally-developed Units – Units in popular subject areas which are developed directly under the management and guidance of SQA – and Units devised by local consortia or individual organisations (sometimes known as ‘locally-devised’ or ‘centre-devised’ Units). Whether nationally-developed or locally-devised, all Higher National Units undergo SQA’s validation process to make sure that they come up to national standards.

All Higher National Units have been given a new 6-digit code. In this catalogue, the Units are listed by superclass, alphabetically and by legacy (ie previous SCOTVEC) code. Nationally-devised Units are highlighted with an asterisk (*).

This catalogue should be useful for anyone who is involved with teaching, recruitment or admissions, or course development. Centres which are considering creating new Units or group qualifications should use it as an initial reference point.

Higher National Unit specifications

What are Higher National Unit specifications?

Higher National Units specifications explain:

- what the candidate has to achieve
- the standard to which the candidate has to perform
- the evidence required for assessment
- the requirements for the award of pass and merit

They also give guidance on teaching and learning approaches.

The key part of each specification is the statement of the standards (outcomes and performance criteria with their associated range statements and evidence requirements) which explain exactly what the candidate should achieve. These standards must be achieved fully for a candidate to complete a Unit successfully.

The Higher National Unit specification can be used by:

- teachers, lecturers and trainers
- employers interested in further education and training for their employees
- people involved with admissions or recruitment

How to obtain copies of Higher National Unit specifications

All centres which are approved to offer Higher National Units are offered a free set of nationally-developed Higher National Unit specifications. These may be photocopied as required.

Copies of all nationally-developed Higher National Units are available on CD-ROM – each presenting centre receives a disk annually free of charge. Additional copies of the CD (product code C015) may be ordered from the Sales Section at a cost of £15.00. Locally-devised Higher National Unit specifications and additional copies of nationally-developed Higher National Unit specifications cost £2.50 each for the first 30 of any order and £1.75 subsequently. All orders are subject to a minimum charge of £5.00.

Please send your order in writing (by letter, fax or e-mail), detailing Unit numbers and titles to:

Referencing of Higher National Units

Unit referencing

Higher National Units in this catalogue have a 6-character reference code (Unit code). Taken together, the four-digit alphanumeric code and the two-digit 'class' indicator (04 represents a qualification which has not (yet) been given a specific level) – 'the 4+2 code' – provides a unique reference for each qualification.

When registering candidates for a Unit, the number in this catalogue is the number which must be used. Where a Unit has been revised it may be significantly different from the previous version and teaching staff must make sure that they have a copy of the most up-to-date version to teach from.

Teaching/Learning Time

The credit value refers to the notional teaching/learning time for that Unit. Most Units are given a notional design length of 40 hours. However, there are half Units, double Units, triple Units and so on. In the catalogue these are indicated with values of 0.5, 1.5, 2.0, etc.
