

National Units in Personal and Social Development

Core skills coverage

When the original PSD modules were revised for Session 1999/2000, they were replaced by units which were closely based on the modules. For session 2000/2001, it has been necessary to allocate new codes for both the new units and the original modules to ensure that the record of core skills correctly matches the record of the unit or module through which the core skills are achieved. The following two tables give details of the new codes and the core skills each unit carries. The first table relates to the former National Certificate Modules which will lapse on 31 July 2001. The second table relates to the new units.
