ASSESSMENT

In order to achieve this unit, candidates are required to present sufficient evidence that they have met all the performance criteria for each outcome within the range specified. Details of these requirements are given for each outcome. The assessment instruments used should follow the general guidance offered by the SQA assessment model and an integrative approach to assessment is encouraged. (See references at the end of support notes.)

Accurate records should be made of the assessment instruments used showing how evidence is generated for each outcome and giving marking schemes and/or checklists, etc. Records of candidates' achievements should be kept. These records will be available for external verification.

SPECIAL NEEDS

In certain cases, modified outcomes and range statements can be proposed for certification. See references at end of support notes.

NATIONAL CERTIFICATE MODULE: UNIT SPECIFICATION*SUPPORT NOTES

UNIT NUMBER: 7170025

UNIT TITLE: PEOPLE AND POLITICS: EUROPEAN/EU SOCIETY

SUPPORT NOTES: This part of the unit specification is offered as guidance. None of the sections of the support notes is mandatory.

NOTIONAL DESIGN LENGTH: SQA allocates a notional design length to a unit on the basis of time estimated for achievement of the stated standards by a candidate whose starting point is as described in the access statement. The notional design length for this unit is 40 hours. The use of notional design length for programme design and timetabling is advisory only.

PURPOSE This module has been designed as part of a series of modules at different levels of demand which accredit competence in the Social Sciences. The series was designed to facilitate entry to Higher Education. However, the modules in the series may be used in their own right with senior school pupils, adult returners and those whose employment requires them to develop a broad social perspective. Social Science modules may also be useful in adding breadth and ensuring balance in modular programmes.

SQA publishes summaries of NC units for easy reference, publicity purposes, centre handbooks, etc. The summary statement for this unit is as follows:

This module will introduce you to the political perspective and will put you in a position to undertake further modules in this area or to progress to do a practical investigation.

CONTENT/CONTEXT Corresponding to Outcomes 1, 2 and 3:

The following topic must be studied:

- (i) The political structure and organisation of the European Community.

Historical background; Treaty of Rome; expansion of the community; powers and responsibilities of the various tiers; summit meetings.

Corresponding to Outcomes 2 and 3:

One of the following topics must be studied in addition to (i) (above). These set the parameters from which both the historical and current aspects of issues may be taken. Ideally, all topics should be introduced but only one studied in depth after negotiation with the candidate.

(ii) Social and Economic Policy

Common Agricultural Policy; European Regional Policy; European Social Policy; regional inequalities; E.R.M.

(iii) Political Change

Historical background of Eastern Europe since 1945; Comecon; end of "Cold War"; relationship between Eastern European countries; development of individual Eastern European countries; break-up of USSR; Eastern European countries and NATO.

(iv) Defence

Need for defence policies post - WWII; end of "Cold War"; nuclear arms controls; continuing change in Eastern Europe; role of USA in Europe.

Political Issues

All of the above topics are affected by rapidly changing policies at local, national and international level. Issues chosen for study should be relevant, should reflect changing political trends and should arise out of current policies in the topic area. They should also reflect the political system of the European Union.

The following concepts should also be introduced as and when appropriate to the topic and society being studied:

- (a) representation;
- (b) participation;
- (c) power and authority;
- (d) ideology;
- (e) rights and responsibilities.

APPROACHES TO GENERATING EVIDENCE The following approaches are recommended: discussion, case study, tutor/trainer exposition etc. These would involve an examination of a wide range of materials, including TV documentaries, media artefacts, articles, journals, census materials and social statistics. Candidates should be encouraged to reflect politically on their own experiences. Negotiation of issues should be a central feature of this module.

ASSESSMENT PROCEDURES Centres may use the instruments of assessment which are considered by tutors/trainers to be the most appropriate. Examples of instruments of assessment which could be used are as follows:

Corresponding to outcomes:

1. Restricted response.
2. Structured question. One question for each performance criterion.
3. Extended response. This should cover all aspects of the performance criteria.

PROGRESSION This unit belongs to the intermediate grouping in a series of units on People and Politics. Successful candidates may wish subsequently to progress to unit 7173070 Practical Investigation in the Social Sciences: People and Politics which sets more demanding targets. Alternatively, candidates may wish to do another unit at the same level from the following:

- People and Politics: Scottish Society
- People and Politics: British Society
- People and Politics: Global Society
- People and Politics: Optional Society

Unit 7170005 Introduction to People and Politics sets less demanding targets for candidates.

RECOGNITION Many SQA NC units are recognised for entry/recruitment purposes. For up-to-date information see the SQA guide 'Recognised Groupings of National Certificate Modules'.
