Rationale

All new and revised National Courses reflect the Curriculum for Excellence values, purposes and principles. They offer flexibility, provide more time for learning, more focus on skills and applying learning, and scope for personalisation and choice.

In this Course, and its component Units, there will be an emphasis on skills development and the application of those skills. Assessment approaches will be proportionate and fit for purpose and they will promote best practice, enabling learners to achieve the highest standards they can.

This Course provides learners with opportunities to continue to acquire and develop the attributes and capabilities of the four capacities as well as skills for learning, skills for life and skills for work.

All Courses provide opportunities for learners to develop breadth, challenge and application, but the focus and balance of the assessment will be appropriate for the subject area.

Relationship between the Course and Curriculum for Excellence values, purposes and principles

The Course supports lifelong learning for learners of all ages. Learning about the cultures of the world or about the social and political dimensions of society will be enhanced by an awareness of the contributions made by Roman civilisations.

The Course provides learners with the opportunity to develop an understanding of how language works, and use language well to communicate ideas and information; to develop language competence to support understanding and communication; and to use creative and critical thinking to synthesise ideas and arguments.

The Course also provides learners with the opportunity to use different media effectively for learning and communication; to develop independent learning; to enhance their enjoyment and their understanding of their own and other cultures; and to explore the interconnected nature of languages.

The Course provides learners with the opportunity to develop linguistic awareness and analytical skills through the study of Latin texts. Learners develop an appreciation of the interconnected nature of languages and develop an understanding of the legacy of Roman civilisation and its influence on their own culture and that of others.

Learners encounter a wide range of different types of texts in different media. Building on the four capacities, the Course enables learners to communicate, be critical thinkers, develop cultural awareness, and be creative.

Purpose and aims of the Course

The main purpose of the Course is to provide learners with the opportunity to develop translation skills and the ability to understand, analyse and evaluate through the study of Latin language and literature.

The Course offers learners opportunities to develop and extend a wide range of skills. In particular, the Course aims to enable learners to develop:

- ◆ the language skills of translation
- ◆ the ability to understand, analyse and evaluate
- ◆ the ability to apply knowledge of language
- ◆ knowledge and understanding of literary techniques and Roman culture

The Course contributes towards the development of literacy skills by providing learners with opportunities to listen and talk, read and write in English, and to read in Latin.

Information about typical learners who might do the Course

The Course provides flexibility, personalisation and choice to enable learners to achieve in different ways and at a different pace.

Prior learning in the subject is not essential, although the Course provides opportunities for learners to build on prior learning experienced in a broad general education or in Latin qualifications at a lower SCQF level.

The Course is designed to be accessible.

Progression from Latin (National 5) includes opportunities for vertical and lateral progression to:

- ◆ Latin (Higher)
- ◆ further education

and ultimately, for some, to employment.

Course structure and conditions of award

Course structure

This Course is made up of two mandatory Units. The two Units, taken together, include the language skills of translating, understanding, analysing and evaluating. The Course provides the opportunity to integrate these language skills across the Units. Each Unit also offers opportunities for learners to focus on particular skills.

Units are statements of standards for assessment and not programmes of learning and teaching. They can be delivered in a variety of ways.

Latin: Translating (National 5)

The purpose of this Unit is to provide learners with the opportunity to study detailed Latin texts and to develop the language skills needed for detailed translation. Learners will develop knowledge of detailed language in familiar contexts.

Latin: Literary Appreciation (National 5)

Unit assessment

All Units are internally assessed against the requirements shown in the Unit Specification.

They can be assessed on a Unit-by-Unit basis or by combined assessment.

They will be assessed pass/fail within centres. SQA will provide rigorous external quality assurance, including external verification, to ensure assessment judgments are consistent and meet national standards.

Exemplification of possible assessment approaches for Units will be provided in the National Assessment Resource.
