2. Write to produce legible, work-related text

Evidence Requirements for this Unit

Performance and written evidence is required to demonstrate that the candidate has achieved all of the Outcomes and Assessment Criteria for this Unit.

The evidence may be produced at different points throughout the Unit, or towards the end of the Unit when candidates will have had the opportunity to build language skills.

Candidates are expected to develop their skills in the broad vocational context of work

Outcomes 1 and 2

For Outcomes 1 and 2, a practical language assignment should be set for candidates. Evidence will be produced in response to a clear candidate brief and must include:

- one piece of writing for work purposes (which must be handwritten)
- one piece of writing for work purposes (which must be handwritten)

The writing tasks can be on different aspects of work-related written communication and can be completed at different times.

For Outcome 1 candidates may produce a maximum of two drafts of the written piece which will be retained as evidence. Candidates will then check the draft(s) and produce the final written piece. They will have access to monolingual or bilingual dictionaries and will carry out the work on their own, under supervision. Candidates should be made aware that evidence will be in the form of a maximum of two drafts and a final version of their written text, and that the text should be approximately 80 words. An assessor checklist will support the written task and provide evidence that it is the candidate's own work.

For Outcome 2 candidates may produce one or more pieces of written text on a work related theme. The text(s) may be produced in relation to any aspect of their chosen work related context. The texts must be handwritten. They will have access to monolingual or bilingual dictionaries and will carry out the work on their own, under supervision. An assessor checklist will support the written task and provide evidence that it is the candidate's own work.

The total of the two written pieces should be around 150 words.

At this level, when writing, it can be expected that there will be:

- inaccuracies in structure and vocabulary

NB: If a box or grid is provided for a writing task, this must NOT limit the space a candidate needs to write their answer. Please ensure that your candidates know they can ask for additional sheets of paper.

Unit specification: support notes

Unit title: ESOL for Work – Writing

This part of the Unit specification is offered as guidance. The support notes are not mandatory.

While the exact time allocated to this Unit is at the discretion of the centre, the notional design length is 30 hours.

Guidance on approaches to assessment for this Unit

SQA Assessments for this Unit exemplify the national standard. Centres who wish to design their own assessments should refer to the Assessments to ensure a comparable standard.

Details of the appropriate conditions for assessment of competence in this Unit are outlined in the 'Evidence Requirements for the Unit' in the Statement of Standards. Centres must make sure that all Unit assessment is carried out under the stated conditions.

If re-assessment is required, an alternative task should be selected and assessment should be carried out under these same conditions.

Candidates should be given a clear understanding of the timing, conditions and nature of Unit assessment. Time should be made available for them to familiarise themselves with this and to clarify aspects with the teacher/tutor/lecturer.

The evidence required may be produced at different points throughout the Unit, or towards the end of the Unit when candidates will have had the opportunity to build language skills.

In relation to each Outcome, the following guidance is given: N.B. this guidance is particularly important where a centre chooses to design its own assessment. Centres choosing to design their own assessments MUST submit these to SQA for verification prior to use.

Outcome 1 – Write in English in a work related context to record and present information

Candidates should be made aware that evidence will be in the form of a maximum of two drafts and a final version of their written text, and that the text should be approximately 80 words. The draft(s) and final version will be produced by the candidate on his/her own, under supervision. An assessor checklist will support the written tasks and provide evidence that it is the candidate's own work.

Outcome 2 - Write to produce legible, work-related text

Candidates should be made aware that evidence will be in the form of one or more pieces of written text on a work related theme. They should be advised that text(s) may be produced in relation to any aspect of their chosen work related context. Candidates may require advice from their teachers/tutors/lecturers on the type of material that may be suitable. They should be advised that the total word count should be approximately 70 words, that the texts must be handwritten and that they will have access to monolingual and bilingual dictionaries and will carry out the work on their own, under supervision. An assessor checklist will support the written task and provide evidence that it is the candidate's own work.

When preparing candidates they should be given practice in drafting and redrafting written work. Writing tasks will arise out of what is being listened to, studied, discussed or read in general classroom activity. Since use of a dictionary is permitted when producing the evidence, candidates should be accustomed to using this as they write.

While being prepared for producing their draft(s) and final version, candidates need to be made aware of the drafting process. The original draft(s), including any lecturer/tutor/teacher comments and the final version must be retained by the centre.

There is considerable potential in the classroom for candidates to tackle themes and topics in a way that practises writing skills together with the skills of reading, listening and speaking. Material and tasks used to prepare candidates for assessment should reflect those that candidates are likely to encounter in a work context. Care should be taken not to select material that is culturally loaded.
