Introduction

This is the general assessment information for the Higher Classical Studies assignment.

This assignment is worth 30 marks out of a total of 90 marks. This is 33% of the overall marks for the Course assessment. The Course will be graded A-D.

Marks for all Course Components are added up to give a total Course assessment mark which is then used as the basis for grading decisions.

This is one of two Components of Course assessment. The other Component is a question paper.

This document describes the general requirements for the assessment of the assignment Component for this Course. It gives general information and instructions for assessors.

It must be read in conjunction with the assessment task for this Component of Course assessment.

Equality and inclusion

This Course assessment has been designed to ensure that there are no unnecessary barriers to assessment. Assessments have been designed to promote equal opportunities while maintaining the integrity of the qualification.

For guidance on assessment arrangements for disabled candidates and/or those with additional support needs, please follow the link to the Assessment Arrangements web page: www.sqa.org.uk/sqa/14977.html

Guidance on inclusive approaches to delivery and assessment in this Course is provided in the Course Support Notes.

What this assessment covers

This assessment contributes 33% of the total marks for the Course.

The assessment will assess the skills, knowledge and understanding specified for the assignment in the Course Assessment Specification. These are:

- ◆ identifying an appropriate classical studies issue about which there are alternative or different points of view
- ◆ analysing different aspects of the issue
- ◆ comparing and contrasting the Greek and/or Roman worlds with the modern world, in terms of religious, political, social, moral or cultural life
- ◆ drawing on in-depth knowledge and understanding to explain fully and analyse the topic or issue
- ◆ synthesising information
- ◆ evaluating aspects of the issue
- ◆ reaching a reasoned and well-structured conclusion on the issue
- ◆ explaining of both supporting information and potential challenges/ counter-arguments

Assessment

Purpose

The purpose of this assessment is to generate evidence for this Component of the added value of this Course by means of an assignment.

The purpose of this assignment is to demonstrate challenge and application by requiring the candidate to draw on and apply skills, knowledge and understanding within the context of a classical studies issue. This may be related to areas they have studied in class if they wish, but they are free to research any classical studies issue.

Assessment overview

This assessment has a research stage and a production of evidence stage.

Candidates should choose an appropriate issue, which allows them to compare and contrast the classical Greek and/or Roman worlds with the modern world. Candidates should research and analyse the issue, synthesising information to address the question. Candidates should use the Classical Studies Resource Sheet to collate their evidence and references. This can be used to support them to produce evidence.

Assessors should provide reasonable guidance on the types of issue or question, which will enable candidates to meet all the requirements of this Component. They may also guide candidates as to the likely availability and accessibility of resources for their chosen issue.

Candidates should work on their research with minimum support from the assessor.

Assessment conditions

Assessors must exercise their professional responsibility in ensuring that evidence submitted by a candidate is the candidate's own work.

This assignment has two stages:

- ◆ A research stage which will include choosing an issue or question; collecting and evaluating evidence; organising, analysing and synthesising information from a range of sources; comparing/ contrasting the classical and modern worlds; and coming to a conclusion about the question supported with reasons and/or evidence. This stage has been designed to be capable of completion over a notional period of eight hours, including preparation time for the production of evidence.
- ◆ A production of evidence stage which must be completed within one hour 30 minutes.

Candidates should undertake the research stage at any appropriate point in the Course. This will normally be when they have developed the necessary skills, knowledge and understanding. Candidates should undertake the production of evidence stage in time to meet the submission date set by SQA.

During the research stage of this assessment, there are no restrictions on the resources to which candidates may have access.

During the final production of evidence stage of the assessment, candidates should only have access to evidence collected during the research stage of the assignment and recorded on the Classical Studies Resource Sheet.

Candidates must undertake the production of evidence independently. However, reasonable assistance may be provided prior to the production of evidence taking place. The term 'reasonable assistance' is used to try to balance the need for support with the need to avoid giving too much assistance. If any candidates require more than what is deemed to be 'reasonable assistance', they may not be ready for assessment or it may be that they have been entered for the wrong level of qualification.

Reasonable assistance may be given on a generic basis to a class or group of candidates, eg advice on how to develop a project plan. It may also be given to candidates on an individual basis. When reasonable assistance is given on a one-to-one basis in the context of something the candidate has already produced or demonstrated, there is a danger that it becomes support for assessment and assessors need to be aware that this may be going beyond reasonable assistance.

In the research stage of this assignment, reasonable assistance may include:

- ◆ directing candidates to the instructions for candidates
- ◆ clarifying instructions/requirements of the task
- ◆ advising candidates on the choice of a topic or issue
- ◆ advising candidates on possible sources of information
- ◆ arranging visits to enable gathering of evidence
- ◆ interim progress checks

In preparing for the production of evidence stage of this assignment, reasonable assistance may include:

- ◆ advising candidates of the nature and volume of specified resources which may be used to support the production of evidence

At any stage, reasonable assistance does not include:

- ◆ providing the issue or question for the candidate
- ◆ directing candidates to specific resources to be used
- ◆ providing model answers
- ◆ providing detailed feedback on drafts, including marking

The research stage will be conducted under some supervision and control. This means that, although candidates may complete part of the work outwith the learning and teaching setting, assessors should put in place processes for monitoring progress and ensuring that the work is the candidate's own and that plagiarism has not taken place, for example:

- ◆ interim progress meetings with candidates
- ◆ questioning
- ◆ candidates' record of activity/progress
- ◆ assessor observation

Groupwork approaches are acceptable as part of the research stage. However, there must be clear evidence for each candidate to show that the candidate has met the evidence requirements.

The production of evidence stage will be conducted under a high degree of supervision. This means that:

- ◆ candidates must be in direct sight of the assessor (or other responsible person) during the period of the assessment
- ◆ candidates must not communicate with each other
- ◆ candidates should only have access to the Classical Studies Resource Sheet

Evidence to be gathered

The following candidate evidence is required for this assessment:

- ◆ candidate assignment evidence produced under a high degree of supervision
- ◆ Classical Studies Resource Sheet – candidates must use only one side of this single A4 sheet and should use no more than 250 words.

General marking instructions

In line with SQA's normal practice, the following general marking instructions are addressed to the marker. They will also be helpful for those preparing learners for Course assessment.

The assessment task will be set and externally marked by SQA and conducted in centres under the conditions specified by SQA.

General marking principles for Higher Classical Studies assignment

This information is provided to help you understand the general principles you must apply when marking candidate responses in this assignment. These principles must be read in conjunction with the detailed marking instructions which identify the key features required in candidate responses.

- (a) Marks for each candidate response must always be assigned in line with these general marking principles and the detailed marking instructions for this assignment.
- (b) Principal Assessors will provide guidance on marking specific candidate responses which are not covered by either the principles or detailed marking instructions.
- (c) Marking should always be positive. This means that, for each candidate response, marks are accumulated for the demonstration of relevant skills, knowledge and understanding: they are not deducted from a maximum on the basis of errors or omissions.
- (d) The purpose of the Classical Studies Resource Sheet is to help candidates use their evidence and references, collected during the research stage, to address their chosen question or issue. The Resource Sheet should be no more than one single side of A4 and should be no more than 250 words. No marks will be awarded for directly copying extended pieces of text/narrative from the Resource Sheet; however it is acceptable to copy quotations in full. It must not be used by candidates to pre-write their assignment.

The Resource Sheet will not be marked. However, it may assist in the marking of the assignment by enabling clarification of points which the candidate has made in the presentation of their evidence, and may allow markers to gain an insight into what the candidate intended.

Candidates may structure their assignment evidence in a variety of ways.

Candidates can demonstrate their skills, knowledge and understanding in a variety of ways and at different points in their assignment evidence. Markers should credit relevant and appropriate skills, knowledge and understanding wherever they are demonstrated.

The term 'aspect' is used in these marking instructions to refer in a wide sense to encompass any aspects of society, or aspects of classical literature which illustrates universal themes, ideas or values. The issue selected should be analysed in terms of different areas relevant to that aspect of society.

In presenting their findings, candidates will show the following skills, knowledge and understanding:

A. Introduction

Candidates can be credited in a number of ways up to a maximum of 2 marks.

B. Comparing and contrasting the Greek and/or Roman worlds with the modern world, in terms of religious, political, social, moral or cultural life

Candidates can be credited in a number of ways up to a maximum of 5 marks.

C. Drawing on in-depth knowledge and understanding to explain fully and analyse the issue

Candidates can be credited in a number of ways up to a maximum of 8 marks.

D. Analysis and evaluating

Candidates can be credited in a number of ways up to a maximum of 12 marks.

E. Reaching a reasoned and well-structured conclusion on the issue

Candidates can be credited in a number of ways up to a maximum of 3 marks.

Specified resources to be taken into assessment

Candidates may take evidence collected during the research phase into the production of evidence stage, using the Classical Studies Resource Sheet. The Resource Sheet must be submitted with the evidence produced during the final production of evidence stage. The Classical Studies Resource Sheet will be a single side of A4 paper and should be no more than 250 words.

The Classical Studies Resource Sheet taken into the production of evidence stage may include, for example: evidence/data from research; bullet points/headings; mind maps; notes/quotes from sources including archaeological sources; details of internet search results; extracts from books; notes taken from a visit or talk; notes taken from a written or audio-visual source, etc.

No marks will be awarded for directly copying extended pieces of text/narrative from the Resource Sheet; however it is acceptable to copy quotations in full. The Resource Sheet must not be used by candidates to pre-write their assignment.
