1 Introduction

This Arrangements Document is for the revised qualifications HNC/HND Travel and Tourism. These qualifications replace the previous HNC/HND Tourism, HNC Travel and HND Travel and Tourism which were implemented in August 2005. The modifications to the frameworks are the cumulative result of incremental change since that time. The resulting restructure of the awards has resulted in the allocation of new Group Award codes. These are effective from August 2012.

The HN qualifications in Tourism and Travel are designed to equip candidates with the knowledge, understanding and skills required for success in current and future employment or progression to further academic and/or professional qualifications.

The document is designed to assist centres who will be delivering the revised qualifications and outlines the background details to the development, the general and specific aims of the qualifications, changes in the structure and content, recommended delivery and assessment guidance and it also details the structure of the qualifications.

2 Rationale for the revision of the qualifications

2.1 Background

The original suite of HN Travel and Tourism qualifications were introduced in 1997 as a result of a comprehensive consultation with employers, Colleges and Universities at that time. They represented a significant rationalisation of a wide range of individual, college devised HNC/HNDs that had emerged since the original Advanced Courses Development Programme in 1989. They also replaced the HNC/HND Business Administration and with Travel and Tourism.

The revised qualifications, along with other new HNC/HNDs in hospitality, leisure, events management, and retail management, represented a marked increase in the number of HN qualifications for the service sector. This was a reflection of the rapid development of these sectors demanding more and more professional skills, attitudes and expertise in an increasingly sophisticated and competitive marketplace.

Delivery patterns have proven flexible. No single pattern emerged across all centres for different qualifications. An HNC offered largely on a part-time basis to mature candidates may be offered at another centre on a full-time basis to school leavers.

The HNDs were predominantly undertaken on a full-time model but again there were instances of centres offering them part time to mature candidates.

A small but growing aspect of the target client groups for the qualifications is the number of overseas candidates, from both within the EU and outside of it (this is the main reason why ESOL Units were introduced into the frameworks).

Candidate destinations were similarly diverse, a high proportion in some centres went into employment and a small number went onto further study and vice versa at another centre. On balance across the awards the proportion is approximately 50/50% progression onto both destinations.

The rationale for the qualifications remains essentially the same, namely to provide key competences for entry into operational, supervisory and management positions in a wide range of travel and tourism organisations.

2.2 Market research, consultation and development processes

Tourism contributes around £4 billion per annum to the Scottish economy employing over 200,000 people. Comprehensive labour market intelligence has, and continues to be drawn together through the Sector Skills Council (SSC), People 1st and via Future Skills Scotland (FSS). All data confirms the importance of Tourism to the Scottish economy.

The training and skills agenda features strongly in the drive to improve standards and competitiveness in the sector with many initiatives in place and evolving from the Scottish Government, the skills and enterprise network, the Scottish Tourism Alliance and the SSC. Springboard Scotland is an organisation which promotes careers in hospitality and tourism as a first choice option.

Current labour market information and trends, in particular the annual People 1st State of the Nation reports can be found at:

<http://www.people1st.co.uk>

<http://www.futureskillsscotland.org.uk/web/site/home/home.asp>

Consultation details for the major review of the HN Travel and Tourism qualifications in 2005 are summarised in the following table:

Stakeholder	Method of consultation
Delivering centres	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Initial postal survey of all delivering centres ◆ Interviews with travel and tourism teams, including candidates, in a selection of colleges ◆ Two national seminars with representatives from all delivering centres. (These considered structures/Core Skill issues/Graded Units/assessment topics and consideration of draft Units) ◆ Information posted on the HN pages of the SQA website ◆ Targeted consultations on options/modes of delivery/candidate destinations/modes of attendance ◆ Inputs on HN review into two meetings of SFEU subject network for travel and tourism
Candidates	Questionnaires sent to a cross section, centre/age profile, etc of graduates of the awards to provide information on the type of employment entered, relevance to the award to current employment and any gaps.
Employers	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Initial questionnaire sent to employers ◆ Two industry focus groups to probe issues arising from questionnaires ◆ Top up e-mail questionnaire sent to potential focus group members who could not attend
Higher Education	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Initial questionnaire to universities offered related degree programmes ◆ Higher education focus group

Maintenance and incremental review

Since 2005 there has been annual evaluation activity via network events, electronic surveys and ongoing liaison with the SSC. This process was overseen by a Qualification Support Team with members drawn from a cross section of delivering centres and input from the SSC as appropriate.

With the benefit of implementation experience an assessment audit was also completed to confirm the manageability of the overall assessment load. Minor modifications primarily to individual Units were made on an annual basis. Both the SSC and Scottish Tourism Alliance (formerly the Scottish Tourism Forum) have consistently identified customer service and management and leadership as the two key skills areas for the sector.

2.3 Summary of changes

In 2011 a Qualifications Design Team was formed to oversee the completion of work identified as necessary from the aforementioned incremental review processes. These are summarised below:

- ◆ HNC Travel and HNC Tourism now merged to create a single HNC in Travel and Tourism.
- ◆ HND Tourism and HND Travel and Tourism now merged to create a single HND in Travel and Tourism.

The revised merged framework still allows the focus to be slanted on either the inbound or outbound sectors. The broader umbrella title is now consistent with the terminology used in National Qualifications and therefore provides a single umbrella term for SQA's provision.

- ◆ Introduction of a new mandatory Unit, Preparation for Employment in Travel and Tourism, on both HNC and HND frameworks. This Unit will replace Developing Skills for Personal Effectiveness as a mandatory Unit. Feedback from centres had consistently identified that candidates struggled to connect with the relevance of the DSPE Unit. This was borne out by responses in the candidate survey returns. The new Unit places the soft skills clearly identified as crucial by employers in the context of a Unit that candidates will find more meaningful and relevant. The inclusion of an employability skills Unit builds upon the model used successfully on the National Certificates in Travel and Tourism.
- ◆ The Units Retail Travel Operations, Longhaul Inclusive Tours and Independent Holidays, Surface Transportation and Cruises and Using Information Sources and Materials in Tourism have been withdrawn as the practices within them are now outdated in the sector.
- ◆ Retail Travel Practice Unit revised and updated by removing Outcomes 3 and 5 and adding relevant, residual content from the Retail Travel Operations, Longhaul and Surface Transportation Units.
- ◆ Introduction of two new Business Travel Units.
- ◆ Introduction of a new Unit reflecting role of senior air cabin crew. This builds on NQ Units developed at SCQF level 5 and 6.
- ◆ Minor refresh of Planning and Sustainable Development in Tourism Unit.
- ◆ Graded Units revised and updated to reflect the combined frameworks.
- ◆ Update of the Unit Creating a Culture of Customer Care.
- ◆ Inclusion of additional management and leadership Units that form a number of Professional Development Awards (PDAs) to allow candidates the opportunity to acquire additional qualifications relevant to the sector but with wide portability to others.
- ◆ Inclusion of a wider range of ICT Units to reflect increasing importance of digital culture to the sector.

2.4 Other related qualifications

The current SQA catalogue includes the following:

National Qualifications (NQ)

Courses are available at Intermediate 1, 2 and Higher (SCQF levels 4, 5, 6 respectively). These contain both exam based and project based courses. National Certificates in Travel and Tourism at SCQF levels 5 and 6 were introduced in August 2008.

Scottish Vocational Qualifications (SVQ)

SQA does not currently award any SVQs based on the Travel Services, Ground Operations or Cabin Crew suites of National Occupational Standards (NOS), although this is kept under ongoing review.

For up-to-date information on National Occupational Standards visit:
<http://www.people1st.co.uk>

2.5 Progression

Appendix 1 details examples of SQA qualifications in this sector and shows possible progression pathways.

2.5.1 Degree progression

The qualifications provide candidates with the relevant mix of competences to enable immediate entry to employment whilst at the same time allowing candidates an articulation route to degree level study. A large number of related degree programmes are offered at a range of institutions throughout Scotland. The HNC/HNDs provide entry variously into 2nd and 3rd year of degree programmes.

2.6 Target client group

The Travel and Tourism programmes are suitable for a wide range of candidates including:

- ◆ school leavers
- ◆ adult returners to education
- ◆ candidates in employment who wish to enhance their career prospects
- ◆ candidates who wish to start their own business and require a broad grounding in business

3 Aims of the qualifications

3.1 General aims

HNC

- 1 Provide basis for future career and personal development.
- 2 Enable progression within SCQF.
- 3 Develop ability to manage and absorb large amounts of information.
- 4 Develop transferable skills.
- 5 Develop ability to be flexible and work cooperatively with others.
- 6 Develop the ability to take responsibility for one's own learning.

Additionally at HND:

- 7 Develop organisational, research and investigative skills. The HND will further develop skills in planning and organising and require candidates to investigate more in depth problems and issues.
- 8 Develop critical and evaluative thinking looking at key issues and problems from a managerial perspective.

3.2 Specific aims — HNC/HND Travel and Tourism

The awards are prevocational and designed to serve employers needs in a broad spectrum of organisations in the domestic, inbound tourism and outbound travel industry, for example, tour operations, visitor servicing, tourism development, marketing, customer service, guiding, conferencing, tourist and information services, retail and business travel agents, airlines, airports, cruise operators. They may also provide a preparation for employment in the general field of business in areas such as administration, marketing and customer services.

Specifically, the HNC should enable the candidate to:

- 9 Develop key skills and knowledge in marketing and customer service applied to the travel and tourism sector.
- 10 Develop sound product knowledge of the home market or international destinations, and depending on options selected, relevant practical technical skills in for example itinerary preparation, fare calculations and document completion.
- 11 Develop generic skills in ICT and communication.
- 12 Develop an understanding of the industry, how it is structured and operates.
- 13 Develop employability skills.

Additionally the HND will:

- 14 Develop a more in depth understanding and application of marketing.
- 15 Develop managerial competences in the meaningful travel and tourism context of tour operations and selected specialist areas, eg visitor attractions, airline and airport operations, business or retail travel.
- 16 Provide scope for an in depth look at the key issue of sustainability.

The HND can also be distinguished from the HNC in terms of the:

- ◆ Likely entry point into an organisation.
- ◆ Speed of progression within an organisation.
- ◆ Level of entry into further qualifications.
- ◆ Development of underpinning knowledge of relevant SVQs.

5 Structure of the qualifications

5.1 Structure of the HNC Travel and Tourism

Candidates will be awarded an HNC in Travel and Tourism on successful completion of all of the Units and the Graded Unit in the mandatory section, and an appropriate combination of Units from the limited option and option groupings up to a total of 96 SCQF credit points (12 HN credits). The HN Design Principles require an HNC Group Award to incorporate at least 48 SCQF credit points at SCQF level 7. This requirement is met through the mandatory and limited option sections.

The HNC Travel and Tourism mandatory section comprises 40 SCQF credit points (5 HN credits) at SCQF level 7. The limited option section comprises a minimum of 24 SCQF points (3 HN credits). A further 16–32 SCQF points (2–4 HN credit points) from the option groupings are required depending on Units selected in the limited option groupings.

The framework (on following pages) illustrates the composition of the framework detailing the SCQF level, rating and HN credit value of each Unit.

5.2 Structure of the HND Travel and Tourism

Candidates will be awarded an HND in Travel and Tourism on successful completion of all of the Units and the Graded Units in the mandatory section, and an appropriate combination of Units from the limited option and option groupings up to a total of 240 SCQF credit points (30 HN credits). The HN Design Principles require an HND Group Award to incorporate at least 64 SCQF credit points (8 HN credits) at SCQF level 8. This requirement is met within the mandatory section.

The HND Travel and Tourism mandatory section comprises 104 SCQF credit points (13 HN credits). The limited option section comprises a minimum of 40 SCQF points (5 HN credits). A further 0–96 SCQF points (0–12 HN credits) from the option groupings are required depending on Units selected in the limited option groupings.

The framework (on following pages) illustrates the composition of the framework detailing the SCQF level rating and HN credit value of each Unit.

5.5 Graded Units

The purpose of the Graded Units in the qualifications is to assess the candidate's ability to integrate and apply the Knowledge and/or Skills gained in the individual Units in order to demonstrate that they have achieved the principal aims of the qualifications. A Graded Unit is assessed and a grade of A, B or C awarded to candidates who successfully achieve the Unit.

For the HNC, 1 single credit Graded Unit at SCQF level 7 must be achieved. For the HND 1 double credit Graded Unit at SCQF level 8 in addition to the SCQF level 7 Graded Unit is required.

A project based Graded Unit will assess the application of knowledge and skills in the planning and evaluation of a given task, while an examination assesses theoretical knowledge and understanding under invigilated conditions.

A project rather than an examination was chosen for the Graded Units for the HNC and HND. It was felt that the project would be a better preparation for the candidates for employment and that the project format would be appropriate to assess the candidate's understanding of the award's principal aims.

For the single credit HNC Graded Unit, a case study was chosen as the format for the project based Graded Unit. It was felt that the skills developed in the case study, gathering and interpreting information, analysing, decision making and planning for action would effectively test the material covered in the HNC principal aims. These skills will also be an appropriate preparation for types of employment likely to be entered by HNC candidates.

At HND level, a 2 credit Graded Unit was chosen. This is to take the form of an investigation. Here, skills in research, analysis, evaluation and reporting are developed. This type of assessment was seen as an appropriate way of assessing the principal aims. It will also provide a good preparation for the demands of employment entered by HND candidates, and for the extended research and evaluative writing demanded at the next level of study. A 2 credit investigation was chosen, rather than two single Graded Units, as it was felt that this would give the candidates the challenge of researching, writing and evaluating an extended piece of work. It was also eliminate any duplication of generic processes in planning and evaluation arising from completion of two separate single credit Units.

Guidance on implementing Graded Units can be found in the publication Guidance for the Implementation of Graded Units in Higher National Certificates and Diplomas. Published April 2008, publication code CA4405. The document may also be downloaded from the SQA website.

5.6 Core Skills development

These profiles were derived from feedback from centre and industry questionnaires and reference to relevant Modern Apprenticeship frameworks.

Appendix 2 provides further detail on the embedding, signposting or opportunity to develop Core Skills through Units on the frameworks.

6 Approaches to delivery and assessment

6.1 Context and content

The HNC/HND in Travel and Tourism are designed for candidates who want to enter into positions in a wide range of travel and tourism organisations at an operational, supervisory or managerial level. All the qualifications have a heavy focus on customer service and personal and interpersonal skills. Centres are encouraged to ensure a breadth and balance in the delivery of the awards with regard to the different sectors of the industry, For example sufficient coverage of business travel by the use of appropriate examples and reinforced through other Units/topics such as destination knowledge. Practical skills are developed in realistic business scenarios relevant to the sector. The qualifications will also prepare candidates for progression to a range of further programmes of study either in higher education or occupational qualifications in the workplace.

6.2 Delivery and assessment

Suggested delivery schedules have been included in Appendix 3 but the choice of delivery pattern is at the discretion of the Centre. It is anticipated that centres will ensure that as much of the relevant mandatory content as possible is covered prior to commencing delivery of the Graded Unit.

Centres should ensure that when planning a course delivery programme, it reflects the needs and requirements of the candidates. The qualifications can be delivered in a number of ways:

- ◆ Full time
- ◆ Full-time fast track
- ◆ Day release
- ◆ Part-time evening
- ◆ Open Learning

A combination of these modes can also be used. For example, candidates may wish to study on a half-day/one evening basis or combine evening, or day release study with some open learning provision.

For both the HNC and HND Group Award a similar approach can be used. However given that the HND Group Award contains several Units at SCQF level 8, greater emphasis is placed on candidates working unsupervised in order to develop their analytical and research skills; therefore delivery and teaching should reflect this.

A wide range and combination of teaching, learning and assessment methods may be used by centres. The following suggested delivery methods could be adopted by centres:

- ◆ Lecturers
- ◆ Tutorials
- ◆ Study packs
- ◆ Problem based scenarios
- ◆ Case studies
- ◆ Group work
- ◆ Online materials
- ◆ IT based teaching materials
- ◆ Projects
- ◆ Virtual Learning Environments

The design principles for HN have encouraged a more holistic approach to assessment and this has been adopted in both qualifications. The HN specification places emphasis on assessing the whole Outcome or combination of Outcomes rather than individual Evidence Requirements. Some of the Units now assess across the whole Unit. The Unit specification allows the use of sampling of Knowledge and/or Skills. This approach has been put to good use in Units such as Providing Information of the Scottish Tourism Product and the Role of History, Culture and Genealogy in Scottish Tourism where large amounts of information are covered. This has reduced the assessment loading for both candidates and centres.

Integration of delivery and assessment across Units is encouraged for example Influences in Travel and Tourism and Planning and Sustainable Development in Tourism. The Unit Scottish Tourism Product: Niche Markets could be integrated with the Marketing Planning in Travel and Tourism.

A wide range of assessment methodologies are employed across the Units in the HNC/HND framework.

Appendix 4 provides a summary of the individual Unit assessments for the mandatory and the main options on the framework.

6.3 Re-assessment

The way that centres re-assess candidates is integral to the way that they manage assessment as a whole and as such, will be subject to internal moderation. In order to ensure that the assessment process is as holistic as possible and that assessors are able to effectively judge candidates' performance in the Outcome or Unit as a whole, it may not always be possible to re-assess only those parts of the performance in which candidates have not satisfactorily demonstrated competence. Scenarios where candidates may require to re-do the whole assessment include:

- ◆ assessment which test knowledge and other cognitive skills and where it may not be possible to extract some of the items for re-assessment.
- ◆ where parts of several Outcomes are involved.
- ◆ where a project has been designed as an integrated assessment and where there is a requirement to complete the project as a single complex task.

Candidates may require to do only part of an assessment where their evidence has been generated over a period of time and/or a discrete part of the Unit, such as an Outcome, has been assessed originally.

6.3.1 Eligibility for re-assessment

Candidates who have not satisfactorily demonstrated their attainment of Knowledge and/or Skills and/or competence in the whole or only part of an assessment may be considered for re-assessment.

6.3.2 Developing alternative assessments

The design of the original assessments inform the re-assessment process to a large extent, as these determine the type of assessment instruments used and the purpose of the assessment. Normally, centres build up banks of assessments which can be used in whole or part for re-assessment purposes.

Assessment writers should refer to the Unit specification and where available the assessment exemplar when developing an alternative assessment and ensure that it is of equal demand to the original assessment and that it covers all necessary criteria — for example Core Skill achievement. Where candidates have not provided satisfactory evidence for Knowledge and/or Skill items which have been sampled, they would normally be re-assessed on a different sample.

6.3.3 Re-assessment of Graded Units

Re-assessment of a project-based Graded Unit would normally be based on an alternative assessment task. For the latter, centres would be encouraged to set the parameters at the start of the project giving details of the draft submission date and final submission date. The overall grade is derived from the total number of marks across all the sections. The Conditions of Assessment section on the Graded Unit specification and the assessment exemplar gives additional guidance.

6.4 Assessment/verification

All instruments of assessment used within these qualifications should be internally verified including exemplar material provided, using the appropriate policy within the centre and the guidelines set by SQA. This will ensure the validity and reliability of the instruments of assessment used within the centre.

External verification will be carried out by SQA to ensure that internal assessment is within the national guidelines for these qualifications.

For further information on internal and external verification refer to the Guide to Assessment (AA4147)

(Home > SVQ > Downloads)

Guide to Internal Moderation for SQA Centres, SQA 2001 (AA1453)

(Home > Services for Centres > Induction Guide for SQA Co-ordinators > Quality

6.5 Prior verification of Unit assessments

SQA will produce assessment exemplars for high uptake Units including Graded Units and these can normally be used as Instruments of Assessment provided that centres ensure the integrity of the assessment in the first and subsequent years of use and between centres. These can be downloaded from our secure website and we anticipate that centres will, from now on, make full use of them. However, if centres wish to amend these exemplars or create their own assessment instruments you may wish to have these instruments prior moderated before use. While it is not mandatory that prior moderation takes place, we strongly recommend that centres do take advantage of this service with any new Instruments of Assessment particularly Graded Units that are devised.

Some individual retail travel Units cannot be used as live assessments. Details will be contained within the individual exemplar packs concerned. Their purpose is to exemplify the standard of assessment and centres are expected to devise assessments of a similar standard based on actual trade reference materials used within individual centres. This is to ensure assessments are a realistic reflection of current industry practice.

6.6 Open learning

Open learning is currently operated as a delivery mode on the existing awards. The HNC/HNDs include a sufficient number of Units which are suitable although some attendance at a centre would be desirable unless the candidate is able to provide video evidence of oral and group activity or access to interactive media. Some of the practical nature of the work on the travel side which involves access to a great deal of trade reference material/systems could be difficult to undertake on an open learning basis. Flexible part time study with open delivery however, is a practical option where a candidate is in employment.

6.7 Disable candidates and/or those with additional support needs

The additional support needs of individual candidates should be taken into account when planning learning experiences, selecting assessment instruments, or considering whether any reasonable adjustments may be required. Further advice can be found on our website www.sqa.org.uk/assessmentarrangements.

6.8 Credit transfer arrangements

The revised frameworks have a new mandatory Unit, therefore centres are advised, for existing candidates, to complete their programme under the current Group Award codes namely:

G7M7 15	HNC in Tourism
G7MC 15	HNC in Travel
G7MA 16	HND in Tourism
G7MD 16	HND in Travel and Tourism

From August 2012 new candidates should be entered on the new codes:

GF3F 15	HNC Travel and Tourism
GF3G 16	HND Travel and Tourism

Credit transfer is a decision for centres and can be given where there is broad equivalence between the subject-related content of the Units, ie the Knowledge and/or Skills have not changed, or are covered in the Unit for which credit is being awarded. Centres should give some consideration to currency of achievement when awarding credit transfer. The following Unit credit transfer guidance is provided:

New Unit code	New Unit title	Old Unit code	Old Unit title	Transition arrangement
H1F0 34	Creating a Culture of Customer Care	DJ42 34	Creating a Culture of Customer Care	Full credit transfer

The awards are designed to prepare you for a range of positions in a broad spectrum of the organisations in the travel and tourism industry for example, in tour operations, visitor servicing, tourism development, marketing, customer service, guiding, conferencing, tourist and information services, retail and business travel agents, airlines, airports, cruise operators. They may also provide a preparation for employment in the general field of business in areas such as administration, marketing and customer services. Travel and Tourism is an important and growing industry in Scotland and the UK and career opportunities are wide and varied. The HNC/HNDs have a heavy emphasis on customer service and a focus on the development of personal and interpersonal skills. The assessments in the awards are varied with much project work, investigative activity and practical activity involved. The course will allow you to:

- ◆ develop essential skills and knowledge in marketing and customer service applied to the travel and tourism sector.
- ◆ develop sound product knowledge of the either the home market or international destinations.
- ◆ depending on options taken, develop practical technical skills such as itinerary preparation, fare calculations and completion of documentation.
- ◆ develop generic skills in ICT and communication and
- ◆ develop an understanding of the industry, how it is structured and operates.
- ◆ develop employability skills relevant to the sector.

and if you do the HND:

- ◆ develop a more in depth treatment of marketing.
- ◆ develop managerial competences in the meaningful travel and tourism contexts.
- ◆ look at the key issue of sustainability.

If you intend going onto degree level studies it is recommended that you take options in economics, finance and law. Employers particularly value the relevance of work experience and this is an option available on the framework

8 Glossary of terms

SCQF: This stands for the Scottish Credit and Qualification Framework, which is a new way of speaking about qualifications and how they inter-relate. We use SCQF terminology throughout this guide to refer to credits and levels. For further information on the SCQF visit the SCQF website at www.scqf.org.uk

SCQF credit points: One HN credit is equivalent to 8 SCQF credit points. This applies to all HN Units, irrespective of their level.

SCQF levels: The SCQF covers 12 levels of learning. HN Units will normally be at levels 6–9. Graded Units will be at level 7 and 8.

Subject Unit: Subject Units contain vocational/subject content and are designed to test a specific set of knowledge and skills.

Graded Unit: Graded Units assess candidates' ability to integrate what they have learned while working towards the Units of the Group Award. Their purpose is to add value to the Group Award, making it more than the sum of its parts, and to encourage candidates to retain and adapt their skills and knowledge.

Dedicated Unit to cover Core Skills: This is a non-subject Unit that is written to cover one or more particular Core Skills.

Embedded Core Skills: This is where the development of a Core Skill is incorporated into the Unit and where the Unit assessment also covers the requirements of Core Skill assessment at a particular level.

Signposted Core Skills: This refers to the opportunities to develop a particular Core Skill at a specified level that lie outwith automatic certification.

Qualification Design Team: The QDT works in conjunction with a Qualification Manager/Development Manager to steer the development of the HNC/HND from its inception/revision through to validation. The group is made up of key stakeholders representing the interests of centres, employers, universities and other relevant organisations.

Consortium-devised HNCs and HNDs are those developments or revisions undertaken by a group of centres in partnership with SQA.

Specialist single centre and specialist collaborative devised HNCs and HNDs are those developments or revisions led by a single centre or small group of centres who provide knowledge and skills in a specialist area. Like consortium-devised HNCs and HNDs, these developments or revisions will also be supported by SQA.

Appendix 4: Summary of Unit Assessment

Code	Unit title	Credit value	Outcomes	Assessment descriptions
DJ9W 34	Structure of the Travel and Tourism Industry	1	4	Investigation of the operation of the tourism industry in a chosen area probably local. The project could have four sections: — an introduction to the structure of the industry and on each of the main industry sectors.
DK0E 34	Applying Marketing Principles in Travel and Tourism	1	3	A holistic approach is recommended. Projects and the use of case studies of travel and tourism businesses and events are suggested in order to facilitate the application of the principles and techniques of marketing.
H0RC 34	Preparation for Employment in Travel and Tourism	1	3	Personal employment portfolio
H1F0 34	Creating a Culture of Customer Care	1	2	If at all possible, the method of assessment should combine both Outcomes. The second Outcome requires candidates to evaluate a customer care strategy in an organisation. This can refer to an organisation as a whole or to any part of it. For example, candidates in employment could use their own area of work if they wish and if it would allow them to generate suitable and sufficient evidence. Alternatively they could work with case study material which could refer to one or more organisations. It is important to stress that the organisations may be real or hypothetical. It is also possible to assess Outcomes 1 and 2 separately. This might be a suitable approach where candidates are new to customer service and need to spend some time assimilating the principles underpinning excellent customer care and the factors which contribute to a customer care culture.

Code	Unit title	Credit value	Outcomes	Assessment descriptions
DK03 34	Providing Information on the Scottish Tourism Product	2	6	Assessment in a face to face situation such as information giving role plays is desirable given the vocational nature of this Unit. It is acknowledged that this can be difficult to manage with a large class and so the proposed assessments are designed as written tests, contextualised to authentic situations where possible. Outcome 1: 10 structured questions, Outcome 2: 12 structured questions Outcome 3: 8 structured questions, Outcomes 4–6: two touring plans
DK07 33	International Tourist Destinations	1	3	Structured questions: mapping exercises and structured questions. Practical assignment: The test gauges the candidate's ability to make recommendations about destinations and to prepare detailed information to meet specific customer requirements.
DF4D 33	Developing Skills for Personal Effectiveness	1	3	Candidate action plan and supporting documentation. A case study will be used to assess Outcome 2. The activities associated with the Unit should provide candidates with ample opportunities to generate and gather evidence of achievement. The nature and operation of the Unit requires that it should be assessed holistically.
D77G 34	Communication: Practical Skills	1	3	Three separate assignments
DE3N 34	OR Communication: Analysing & Presenting Complex Communication	1	3	Three separate assignments
DH49 34	OR Complex Oral Presentation	1	3	Three separate assignments
D75X 34	Information Technology: Applications Software 1	1	2	Project or case study, an observation checklist is required for Outcome 1.
D85F 34	OR Using Software Applications Packages	1	3	Practical exercise, observation checklist Project or case study for Outcomes 2 and 3

Code	Unit title	Credit value	Outcomes	Assessment descriptions
DF46 35	Developing the Individual within a Team	1	2	Planning, developing and evaluating a team project — covers all Outcomes.
DK08 35	Influences on the Travel and Tourism Industry	1	3	Due to the fact that Outcomes 1 and 2 both examine support organisations a combined assessment instrument is appropriate. However Outcome 3 lends itself to being assessed individually. Throughout the Unit candidates should be encouraged to refer to UK, Scottish and where possible local examples of travel and tourism organisations and enterprises.
DK04 35	Marketing Planning in Travel and Tourism	1	3	Case study on a travel or tourism business for which a marketing plan is to be prepared. Candidates should be facilitated in their efforts to produce a working document in which the theory and practice of marketing is applied in a travel and tourism context.
DK02 35	Planning and Sustainable Development in Tourism	2	5	Assessment could be a mixture of case study/field study involving appropriate topics and extended response to cover theoretical underpinning. Alternatively it could be possible to adopt a holistic approach with all aspects covered though a case study approach.
DJ9P 35	Tour Operations	1	5	Integrated assessment: proposal for a tour, which should be built up in logical stages as candidates progress through the Unit. Evidence will be required to show that candidates can apply techniques to different types of tour programmes.
DK0H 34	Visitor Attraction Operations	1	3	Holistic project based on a known visitor attraction covering all Outcomes of the Unit.
DJ9L 35	Visitor Attraction Management	1	3	Holistic project covering all Outcomes.
F6VY 34	Air Travel:	2	5	The evidence could be assessed holistically by a series of practical exercises that accurately reflect the conditions of the workplace and integrate knowledge and skills from across the Outcomes. Practical exercises relating to each Outcome.

Code	Unit title	Credit value	Outcomes	Assessment descriptions
F6VX 35	Air Travel: Advanced	2	3	Four practical exercises are recommended.
H11R 34	Retail Travel Practice	2	5	The evidence could be assessed by a series of practical exercises that accurately reflect the conditions of the workplace and integrate knowledge and skills.
H1J2 34	Business Travel: An Introduction	1	3	For Outcome 1 and 3 an assignment based on actual or fictional corporate client. Outcome 2 could be assessed by short response questions.
H1J3 34	Business Travel Practices	1	3	Case studies and short response questions.
H1J4 34	Working as Senior Air Cabin Crew	1	3	Preparation of a pre flight briefing, Case study material and supplementary questioning.
DJ9T 34	Tour Guiding and Resort Representation	1	4	This Unit could be assessed using a variety of methods. A holistic approach is recommended as far as possible with Outcomes being integrated with one another. Evidence could be gathered by means of a project in the form of a tour operator's staff procedure manual. Additionally some skills and knowledge could be assessed by presentations. Outcome 4 could be assessed by candidates conducting a live tour (if possible) around a visitor attraction, or part of a visitor attraction, or perhaps walking around an area of their village, town or city. A tutor observation checklist could be used to record their research, presentation and group management skills, and a copy of the tour script could be inserted in their training manual. Furthermore a health and safety checklist could be compiled by the candidate.
F20X 34	Scottish Tourism Product: Niche Markets	1	3	While assessment will comprise materials produced by the candidate or responses to questions based on the course material, it is envisaged that observation and one-to-one interviews would add value if this subject is assessed at venues seeking VisitScotland accreditation in quality assurance. HN Unit

DJ9X 34	Role of History, Culture and Genealogy in Scottish Tourism	1	3	The breadth of topics is widespread and it is recommended that candidates are assessed by end of Outcome testing. Outcome 1 is assessed by an open-book assignment, completed in a controlled environment. Outcome 2 is assessed by short answer questions. Outcome 3 is assessed by a written project or an oral presentation.
DK01 34	Practical Travel and Tourism Visit	1	4	Outcomes 1, and 2 of this Unit could be assessed holistically by a portfolio of evidence generated by the candidate. This would involve the compilation of planning sheets, logbook, information sheets and checklists. Outcome 3 could be assessed by the preparation of a short group presentation, during which each member of the team evaluates at least one facility visited. A 750 word report to evaluate the visit/programme of visits in terms of the objectives set in the planning stage could assess Outcome 4. HN
