

Skills for Work: Year one experiences

Ian Sampson — Inverkeithing High School

‘The youngsters that we’ve had in whenever they first came in were quite shy and retiring, but since going up to Lauder College and gaining what we would regard as being life skills they have actually come back here and been far more excited, enthusiastic about everything that they’re doing and I’d say the quality of the work that’s being produced and even the enthusiasm towards the subject, towards construction skills has been absolutely excellent.’
