

Skills for Work: Year one experiences

John Kane — Glasgow's Vocational Programme

'The role of the local authority is managing the process of Skills for Work and being the liaison between businesses, schools and further education colleges. We work very closely with businesses in Glasgow through the Chamber of Commerce. I think it's important that we link the industry sector to the Skills for Work agenda to ensure that we are first and foremost developing the right qualifications with business involvement.'