

CIW Train the Trainer Course at University of Paisley

The information below covers training dates, location, registration instructions & course content. The discounted course fee will be £1,000 per delegate. Registration is on a first come, first served basis. Max' class size will be 4 instructors to ensure high quality training ratio.

* We assume that delegates will arrive with their own instructor manuals.

* We assume that delegates have had the time to read over the manuals at least once.

* With the above assumptions:

Each day 9:30-12:30 & 13:30-16:30, i.e. 6hr working day and 1 hr lunch.

Day 1:

- CIW Internet Business Foundations

Day 2:

- CIW Network Technology Foundations

- Revision {afternoon}

Note: Day 1 and 2 cover the material of the SQA module: Interactive Media - Internet and Network Technology Foundations

Day 3:

- CIW Website Development Foundations (part 1)

Day 4:

- CIW Website Development Foundations (part 2) {morning}

- Revision and Exam prep {afternoon}

Note: Day 3 and 4 cover the material of the SQA module Interactive Media - Website Development Foundations

Day 5:

- CIW Foundations exam {morning}

- CIW Certified Testing Centre (CTC) Manual and Practise {morning}

- CIW Certified Proctor (CP) exam {afternoon}

- Q&A plus closing

REASONS TO ATTEND

- University of Paisley has over 2 years of experience delivering the whole range of CIW courses
- University of Paisley is the only organisation outside the US authorised to Train the Trainers
- University of Paisley's lead CIW tutor Dr Lukasz Biegus has been trained by the Chief Certification Architect of CIW, Dr James Stanger
- University of Paisley has had over 400 students through the CIW courses to date
- University of Paisley are happy to share both the knowledge of the course content and our hands-on experience delivering it
- University of Paisley can train you towards becoming a proctored exam centre (which considerably drives the cost of exams down)