

Apple Young Creatives Roadshow at RSAMD

1st November 2007, The Royal Scottish Academy of Music & Drama, supported by Apple UK and the SQA DIVA programme, is today running a unique event aimed at inspiring the next generation of creative talent.

Professionals working in film, music, design and photography are showcasing what can be achieved using the latest tools of the trade and experts from Apple UK bringing world-class knowledge and skills to your students and teachers here in Glasgow.

Delegates will also have opportunities to meet professional practitioners and employers to find out more about the Creative Industries in Scotland and training opportunities.

The programme for 1st November is specifically for young people studying or looking to study film, theatre, performance, media, art and design, music and creative courses in schools, colleges and Universities in the Region.

Apple Young Creatives 1st November Programme
9 – 9.30am arrival and registration
Opening address by Apple
Live Performance
Session 1 Music - Digital recording
Film – Putting the DVD together
Promoting the band – using photography and design tools
Session 2 Music - Digital recording
Film – Putting the DVD together
Promoting the band – using photography and design tools
Lunch and exhibition, including competitions
Session 3 Music - Digital recording
Film – Putting the DVD together
Promoting the band – using photography and design tools
3.00pm CLOSE