

Officers from Learning and Teaching Scotland attended all of the SQA Consultation Events for Higher Physics and Higher Chemistry in November and December 2009. LTS Officers delivered a presentation setting out support for these developments within the current educational context. Information was provided about support from LTS and other stakeholders. An activity was undertaken with practitioners where they were asked to identify, from the draft Content Tables presented, their anticipated resource and CPD needs. This information was collated and summarised by an independent consultant and will inform future planning to support developments in Higher Physics and Higher Chemistry.
