Higher National Graded Unit specification: instructions for designing the assessment task and assessing candidates

Graded Unit title: Activity Tourism: Graded Unit 3

Conditions of assessment

The assessment is based on a closed book examination lasting three hours.

Reasonable assistance is the term used by SQA to describe the difference between providing candidates with some direction to generate the required evidence for assessment and providing too much support, which would compromise the integrity of the assessment. Reasonable assistance is part of all learning and teaching processes. In relation to the assessment of Higher National Examination-based Graded Units, assessors may provide advice and guidance on examination technique and clarification on the meaning of command words which may appear within an examination paper, prior to the formal examination.

Remediation is not allowed in Examination-based Graded Unit assessments.

Any candidate who has failed their Higher National Examination-based Graded Unit or wishes to upgrade their award must be given a re-assessment opportunity, or in exceptional circumstances, two re-assessment opportunities. This must be done by using a substantially different examination.

The final grading given must reflect the quality of the candidate's evidence at the time of the completion of the graded unit. Candidates must be awarded the highest grade achieved, whether through first sitting or through any re-assessment.

The examination should be unseen and the assessment should be conducted in controlled and invigilated conditions.

At all times, the security, integrity and confidentiality of examinations must be ensured.

Instructions for designing the assessment task

The examination should be designed to assess the candidate's critical knowledge and understanding of the topics relating to the specific aims which this Graded Unit is designed to cover. The questions and corresponding marks should be designed in accordance with the ranges indicated in the table that follows. However, the overall total mark for the examination is 100.

Key topics	Level of demand	Percentage weighting for each topic
Travel and Tourism (current trends, future potential, impacts of travel and tourism, mass and niche tourism markets, tourist motivations)	Evaluate a variety of tourism activities. Explain niche markets and tourist experiences and apply these to the activity tourism industry	20%
Sustainable Tourism (impacts of tourism: positive and negative, community development, local products, eco-tourism, greening the product, accreditation schemes)	Critical analysis of environmental concerns and issues of sustainability, with regard to tourism. Explain the concept of sustainable tourism and apply the concept within the activity tourism sector	20%
Rural Business Diversity (markets for diversified activities, key rural factors- including social factors and environmental factors, problems and solutions for rural areas and rural businesses, feasibility reports, sources of finance)	Evaluate current and topical rural business related management issues. Explain and apply these issues to rural activity organisations, integrating the concepts with issues of sustainability and marketing.	20%
Markets for Activities and Events (price, product, place and promotion for activities and events, feasibility studies, marketing plans)	Evaluate the concept of marketing to explain the relation between production and market requirements and promotion of products. Explain and apply marketing concepts to the activity tourism sector integrating the concepts with concerns for the environment and for sustainability	20%
Rural Areas, Communities and Development (rural development projects past, present and future, bottom-up and top-down approaches)	Evaluate past, present and future schemes and initiatives aimed at the development of rural areas. Explain and apply the schemes and initiatives in the context of activity tourism provision and demand, integrating the schemes with issues of sustainability, marketing and rural diversity.	20%

The format of the examination should be designed to conform to the following:

- ◆ The examination paper must be divided into five sections corresponding to the Key Topics in the above table
- ◆ The examination paper must contain a choice of at least two questions from each Key Topic where this is possible
- ◆ Each question, or part thereof, should have an associated mark
- ◆ Candidates are expected to attempt and pass all sections of the examination papers
- ◆ The aggregate marks available for the question or questions in each topic area should conform to the percentage weighting given in the above table

The examination will be marked out of 100. Assessors will aggregate the marks achieved by the candidate to arrive at an overall mark for the examination. Assessors will then assign a grade to the candidate for this Graded Unit based on the following grade boundaries:

- ◆ A = 70% — 100%
- ◆ B = 60% — 69%
- ◆ C = 50% — 59%

Support notes

This Unit consists of a three hour, closed-book examination, covering five key topics. The questions associated with each key topic should be focussed on knowledge and skills that candidates should be expected to be able to readily recall, integrate and apply. The purpose of the examination is to prove the candidates' ability to explain, apply and integrate knowledge gained from the Units that comprise the course, but also it provides the opportunity for candidates to achieve a grade for the examination that reflects the depth and scope of their knowledge and understanding.

Key topics	Content*
Travel and Tourism (current trends, future potential, impacts of travel and tourism, mass and niche tourism markets, tourist motivations)	Evaluation of a variety of tourism activities, travel options, niche markets and experiences. Examples from the activity tourism sector.
Sustainable Tourism (impacts of tourism: positive and negative, community development, local products, eco-tourism, greening the product, accreditation schemes)	Critical analysis of environmental concerns and issues of sustainability, with regard to tourism and rural communities. Integration of sustainability and activity tourism.
Rural Business Diversity (markets for diversified activities, key rural factors- including social factors and environmental factors, problems and solutions for rural areas and rural businesses, feasibility reports, sources of finance)	Evaluate current and topical rural business related management issues. Analysis of the management of change and integration of diversity with sustainability and marketing
Markets for Activities and Events (price, product, place and promotion for activities and events, feasibility studies, marketing plans)	Evaluate the relationship between production and market requirements and promotion, placement and pricing of products. Integration with environmental needs, concerns and issues of sustainability
Rural areas, communities and development (rural development projects past, present and future, bottom-up and top-down approaches)	Identification and evaluation of schemes and initiatives aimed at the development of rural areas. Integration with rural diversity, activities, sustainability and marketing of developments.

- * For all the above key topics, the examination questions should challenge the candidates to apply their knowledge of the topic area and allow candidates to demonstrate a response that integrates the key topics as well as evaluating past, current and future issues. All responses must be supported with relevant examples.

The defined mandatory Units could be scheduled for the first and second terms so that candidates have time to consolidate and deepen their knowledge and understanding by private study and background reading before the examination towards the end of the academic session.

It would be beneficial if candidates gained experience of an examination type assessment during the delivery of the award so that they feel comfortable with the format. There could be discussions with candidates on examination technique, which should include the timing, the significance of the verbs used in questions, the need to ascertain the scope of the question, and planning responses. Feedback on sample responses (formative assessment) would sharpen their examination techniques.

The examination should be completed under normal examination conditions. That is at a defined time advertised well in advance, in a quiet venue with effective invigilation facilities. Candidates should be provided with clear information regarding examination resits.

Equality and inclusion

This graded unit specification has been designed to ensure that there are no unnecessary barriers to learning or assessment. The individual needs of learners should be taken into account when planning learning experiences, selecting assessment methods or considering alternative evidence.

General information for candidates

This is a single credit Graded Unit (Examination) at SCQF level 8.

This Graded Unit is designed to assess your ability to recall, integrate and apply the essential knowledge and understanding required to meet the principal aims of the HND Activity Tourism award. The assessment is a closed-book examination lasting 3 hours, held towards the end of the course, which draws together elements from the following defined Units of the Activity Tourism programme:

DK0835: Influences on the Travel and Tourism Industries
F566 35: Tourism: Sustainability and Rural Communities
F2EF35: Rural Business Diversification
D4WG35: Managing an Event

The examination consists of questions in five areas related to key aspects of the above Units. These areas are:

- ◆ Travel and Tourism
- ◆ Sustainable Tourism
- ◆ Rural Business Diversity
- ◆ Markets for Activities and Events
- ◆ Rural Areas, Communities and Development

Each question has the marks for the question identified and the total number of marks available is 100. Assessors mark each section of the examination paper taking into account the criteria outlined. The marks for the examination are then aggregated to arrive at an overall mark for the examination. Assessors then assign an overall grade to the candidate for this Graded Unit based on the following grade boundaries.

- ◆ A = 70% — 100%
- ◆ B = 60% — 69%
- ◆ C = 50% — 59%

To pass the examination and achieve the Graded Unit, the candidate must achieve an overall mark of 50% or above, with each of the five sections of the examination paper achieving a pass. Candidates who fail the examination and are offered a reassessment opportunity must undertake a substantially different question paper.
