General information for candidates

Unit title: Childhood Practice: Playwork

This Unit is designed to give you the opportunity to develop a breadth of research and knowledge in relation to playwork theory and practice. You will set your research into a distinct field of insight and a recognised professional context within the leadership and management of playwork.

You will relate the playwork theories and concepts with the leadership and management of childhood practice within a playwork setting.

You will analyse and manage the implementation of an aspect of play and playwork theory within childhood practice and will evaluate the impact of the aspect of playwork theory on the practice within their setting.

On completion of the Unit you will be able to:

- 1 Develop a breadth of knowledge of research in relation to playwork theory and practice.
- 2 Analyse other factors which influence the implementation of playwork theory in practice.
- 3 Analyse leadership and management required to implement play and playwork theory.

The task is to conduct your own research in using appropriate sources. Your tutor will offer support but the work will be your own. You will be required to investigate a number of theories of play and playwork and to consider their impact of childhood practice in a playwork setting.

You will be expected to investigate the theories, gather relevant data, record the key data and then in 2000 words, present your findings in the form of a report.

In short you will be required to gather data, use the data to further inform the process and record and present you findings. You may support your views with the research you have carried out, or present an argument making reference to the data you have gathered.

At this level of work, it is expected that the report will be clearly referenced using a standard form of referencing and supporting you points with the data gathered. It is also possible to use data to deduce an alternative view as the subject area has room for different views in some areas. However the arguments must be clearly presented at all times.

The final report will need to cover all the Outcomes and you will need to ensure that you have addressed all of the Knowledge and/or Skills
