Rationale

All new and revised National Courses reflect the Curriculum for Excellence values, purposes and principles. They offer flexibility, provide more time for learning, more focus on skills and applying learning, and scope for personalisation and choice.

In this Course, and its component Units, there will be an emphasis on skills development and the application of those skills. Assessment approaches will be proportionate and fit for purpose and they will promote best practice, enabling learners to achieve the highest standards they can.

This Course provides learners with opportunities to continue to acquire and develop the attributes and capabilities of the four capacities as well as skills for learning, skills for life and skills for work.

All Courses provide opportunities for learners to develop breadth, challenge and application, but the focus and balance of the assessment will be appropriate for the subject area.

Relationship between the Course and Curriculum for Excellence values, purposes and principles

Language and literacy are of personal, social and economic importance. Learners' ability to use language lies at the centre of the development and expression of their emotions, thinking, learning, and sense of personal identity.

The Course provides learners with the opportunity to develop personal, interpersonal and team working skills and independent learning; to enhance their enjoyment and their understanding of their own and other cultures; and to explore the interconnected nature of languages.

The Course provides learners, whose first language is not English, the opportunity to develop appropriate skills in reading, writing, listening, and speaking, in practical and relevant contexts.

Learners encounter a wide range of different types of texts in different media. Building on the four capacities, the Course enables learners to communicate, be critical thinkers, develop cultural awareness, and be creative.

Purpose and aims of the Course

The main purpose of the Course is to develop the skills of reading, writing, listening, and speaking, in order to understand and use English for learners whose first language is not English.

As learners develop their language skills, they will be able to process information more easily, apply knowledge of language in practical and relevant contexts, and gain confidence to undertake new and more challenging tasks in a variety of situations.

The Course offers learners opportunities to develop and extend a wide range of skills. In particular, the Course aims to enable learners to:

- ◆ read, write, listen, and speak, in English
- ◆ understand and use English language, as appropriate to purpose, audience and context
- ◆ apply knowledge and understanding of English language

The Course contributes towards the development of literacy skills by providing learners with opportunities to read, write, listen, and speak, in English.

Information about typical learners who might do the Course

The Course provides flexibility, personalisation and choice, to enable learners to achieve in different ways and at different paces.

The Course provides opportunities for learners to build on prior learning experienced in a broad general education or in ESOL qualifications at a lower SCQF level.

The Course provides learners with the opportunity to develop skills in reading and writing, listening, and speaking, which are essential for learning, life and work; and to develop their ability to communicate their thoughts and feelings and respond to those of other people.

The Course provides learners whose first language is not English with the opportunity to use different media effectively for learning and communication, and to develop an understanding of how language works and use language to communicate ideas and information in English.

The Course is designed to be accessible.

The Course provides opportunities for vertical and lateral progression to National Courses, and to other SQA qualifications in ESOL and other related fields.

Course structure and conditions of award

Course structure

This Course is made up of two mandatory Units. The two Units include the four language skills of reading, writing, listening, and speaking. The Course provides the opportunity to integrate these language skills across the Units.

Units are statements of standards for assessment and not programmes of learning and teaching. They can be delivered in a number of ways.

ESOL for Everyday Life (National 5)

The purpose of this Unit is to develop the language skills needed for everyday life in familiar personal, social and transactional contexts. This Unit provides learners with the opportunity to develop the skills of reading, writing, listening, and speaking, using detailed English language.

ESOL in Context (National 5)

The purpose of this Unit is to develop the language skills needed for familiar work- and study-related contexts. This Unit provides learners with the opportunity to develop the skills of reading, writing, listening, and speaking, using detailed English language. In this Unit, the contexts of either work or study will be personalised to meet the needs of learners.

Conditions of award

To gain the award of the Course, the learner must pass all of the Units as well as the Course assessment. The required Units are shown in the Course outline section. Course assessment will provide the basis for grading attainment in the Course award.

Skills, knowledge and understanding

Further information on the assessment of the skills, knowledge and understanding for the Course is given in the Course Assessment Specification. A broad overview of the mandatory subject skills, knowledge and understanding that will be assessed in the Course is given in this section.

These include:

- ◆ reading and writing, listening, and speaking skills in English in the familiar contexts of everyday life, work and study
- ◆ knowledge and understanding required to understand and use detailed English language, as appropriate to purpose, audience and context

Skills, knowledge and understanding to be included in the Course will be appropriate to the SCQF level of the Course. The SCQF level descriptors give further information on characteristics and expected performance at each SCQF level (www.sqa.org.uk/scqf).

Assessment

Information about assessment for the Course is included in the Course Assessment Specification, which provides full details including advice on how a learner's overall attainment for the Course will be determined.

Unit assessment

All Units are internally assessed against the requirements shown in the Unit Specification.

They can be assessed on an individual Unit basis or by using other approaches which combine the assessment for more than one Unit.

They will be assessed on a pass/fail basis within centres. SQA will provide rigorous external quality assurance, including external verification, to ensure assessment judgments are consistent and meet national standards.

The assessment of the Units in this Course will be as follows.

ESOL for Everyday Life (National 5)

Learners will be required to provide evidence of their reading, writing, listening and speaking skills in English, using detailed language, in one or more of the following contexts: familiar, personal, social or transactional contexts.

ESOL in Context (National 5)

Learners will be required to provide evidence of their reading, writing, listening and speaking skills in English, using detailed language, in one or more of the following contexts: familiar work-related or study-related contexts.

Course assessment

Courses from National 4 to Advanced Higher include assessment of added value<sup>1</sup>. At National 5, Higher and Advanced Higher, the added value will be assessed in the Course assessment. The added value for the Course must address the key purposes and aims of the Course as defined in the Course Rationale. It will do this by addressing one or more of breadth, challenge and application.

In National 5 ESOL Course, added value will focus on challenge and application.

Learners will provide evidence of their listening and speaking, reading and writing skills, and their ability to understand and use English in the contexts of everyday life, work and study. The Course assessment will take the form of a performance<sup>2</sup> through which learners will demonstrate their speaking and listening skills, and two question papers<sup>3</sup> through which learners will demonstrate their listening, reading and writing skills, in English.
