GUIDANCE ON THE CONTENT AND CONTEXT FOR THIS UNIT

Outcome 1

Basic Risk Assessment

The five steps to risk assessment:

- 1 Look for the hazard.
- 2 Decide who might be harmed and how.
- 3 Evaluate the risks and decide whether the existing precautions are adequate or whether more should be done.
- 4 Record your findings.
- 5 Review your assessment and revise it if necessary. (Note that this step is not assessed in this Unit).

Emergency procedures

Facility operating procedures — such as NOP (Normal Operating Procedures) and EAP (Emergency Action Plan), accident reporting. (The actual terms used may vary).

Outcome 2

Codes of Conduct for Coaches — SportsCoachUK, Code of Conduct and Ethics.

Scottish/National Governing Body (S/NGB) requirements for coaches working with specific performers or groups. Examples include material from the Scottish Rugby Union, the Scottish Football Association etc.

Protection of children issues: eg RSSPCC (Children 1st), Disclosure Scotland.

The coach as a role model — discussion of the influence that a coach or player may have on the aspirations of young potential athletes.

GUIDANCE ON LEARNING AND TEACHING APPROACHES FOR THIS UNIT

If the Unit is delivered as part of the planned Group award, it must be delivered within the same sports context as the other Units in the Group Award - Prepare for the Delivery of a Coaching Activity (SCQF level 4) and Conduct and Review Coaching Activities (SCQF level 4).

The candidate is expected to be familiar with the main rules/laws of the sport before undertaking this Unit.

National Unit Specification: support notes (cont)

UNIT Promoting Safe and Ethical Sport: Cycling (SCQF level 4)

Candidates should be encouraged to examine the main concepts of the Code of Conduct and Ethics and any specific requirements produced by the National Governing Body for their specific sport.

Candidates must have a clear understanding of their duty towards young people in their care and an understanding of the current legislation/guidelines about the protection of children and vulnerable adults from abuse.

While this may be delivered in a classroom situation and evidence of knowledge may well be gathered in that environment, it will be while actually coaching that a candidate will demonstrate the practical aspects of the knowledge gained.

With regard to injuries, while a candidate may indeed produce real evidence of the practical application of the knowledge, it would be acceptable and appropriate that the evidence gathered may be based on questions, documents prepared by candidate or others, and simulation may be used if required for both delivery and assessment purposes. For this Unit, the candidate is not expected to deal directly with any accident or emergency but is expected to be aware of the appropriate procedures which require to be followed.

GUIDANCE ON APPROACHES TO ASSESSMENT FOR THIS UNIT

Outcome 1

A variety of approaches may be used as appropriate to the sport and candidate.

Candidates are required to submit a basic risk assessment for a component of a session/activity which they led. This may have been prepared by the candidate in whole or in part or may be that used by the centre.

Candidates are required to gather details on emergency procedures for the environment in which they are coaching. This may be an existing document or may be created by the candidate or a combination of these items (eg a submitted document and candidate written comment).

Candidates will produce a real or simulated accident report form.

Outcome 2

There may be a need to support this with questions where a specific item of knowledge is not clearly demonstrated by a task. This may be in a written form or by oral questions.

Much evidence will be of a practical nature. Delivering centres may use appropriately devised checklists and/or assessor reports.

Opportunities for developing Core Skills

Although skills in Communication are not formally assessed candidates will be expected to present information to a standard acceptable in the vocational area. They should be encouraged to express ideas and information accurately and concisely, and to be aware of the impact of presentation on the effectiveness of promoting safe and ethical sport.

Skills in accessing and evaluating a range of sources which provide current information on professional information, the codes of conduct and ideas could usefully be developed, in order that candidates are able to read and evaluate underpinning reference materials from a range of sources and electronic sites.

CANDIDATES WITH DISABILITIES AND/OR ADDITIONAL SUPPORT NEEDS

The additional support needs of individual candidates should be taken into account when planning learning experiences, selecting assessment instruments, or considering alternative Outcomes for Units. Further advice can be found in the SQA document Guidance on Assessment Arrangements for Candidates with Disabilities and/or Additional Support Needs (www.sqa.org.uk).
