Unit code: H5XA 10

Superclass: MA

Publication date: January 2014

Unit purpose

The purpose of this Unit is to introduce the learner to the ethics of coaching, the relevant codes of behaviour, and the means of dealing with an accident or emergency and the basic rules/laws of AIBA Open Boxing (AOB) as defined by the International Boxing Association (AIBA). These will all underpin the leadership and coaching processes.

This Unit is suitable for learners who have a strong interest in sport, leadership and the coaching process and who wish to develop their knowledge of the creation of a safe and secure environment for participants to ensure that learning may take place. It is also suitable for learners who wish to improve their knowledge of the current code of conduct as required by boxing. It may be of interest to learners who have previously practised the sport and now wish to contribute to improving the performance of others.

Outcomes

On successful completion of the Unit the learner will be able to:

- 1 Promote a healthy and safe environment for participants in a component of an activity session.
- 2 Promote the relevant code of practice/conduct for boxing.

Credit points and level

Recommended entry to the Unit

While entry is at the discretion of the centre, learners would normally be expected to have attained one of the following, or equivalent:

- ◆ a Scottish/National Governing Body (S/NGB) preliminary coaching award

Core Skills

Opportunities to develop aspects of Core Skills are highlighted in the Support Notes for this Unit specification.

There is no automatic certification of Core Skills or Core Skill components in this Unit.

Context for delivery

If this Unit is delivered as part of a Group Award, it is recommended that it should be taught and assessed within the subject area of the Group Award to which it contributes.

The Unit is an integral component of the NPA in Boxing and should be delivered and assessed together with the associated Units.

These are Prepare for the Delivery of a Coaching Activity (SCQF level 4) and Conduct and Review Coaching Activities (SCQF level 4).

Equality and inclusion

This Unit specification has been designed to ensure that there are no unnecessary barriers to learning or assessment. The individual needs of learners should be taken into account when planning learning experiences, selecting assessment methods or considering alternative evidence.

Further advice can be found on our website www.sqa.org.uk/assessmentarrangements.

Evidence Requirements for this Unit

Evidence is required to demonstrate that learners have achieved all Outcomes and Performance Criteria.

For Outcome 1 recorded written and/or oral evidence is required. This will include/consist of:

- ◆ A completed induction form. This must take into account all areas of the facility the participants may come into contact with.

Outcome 2

Codes of Conduct for Coaches — Boxing Scotland Code of Conduct and Ethics

Protection of children issues: PVG, Disclosure Scotland.

The coach as a role model — discussion of the influence that a coach or player may have on the aspirations of young potential athletes.

Guidance on approaches to delivery of this Unit

Learners must have already signed up to the Boxing Scotland Code of Conduct and Ethics.

Learners must have a clear understanding of their duty towards young people in their care and an understanding of the current legislation/guidelines about the protection of children and vulnerable groups from abuse.

While this may be delivered in a classroom situation and evidence of knowledge may well be gathered in that environment, it will be while actually coaching that a learner will demonstrate the practical aspects of the knowledge gained.

With regard to injuries, while a learner may indeed produce real evidence of the practical application of the knowledge, it would be acceptable and appropriate that the evidence gathered may be based on questions, documents prepared by learner or others, and simulation may be used if required for both delivery and assessment purposes. For this Unit, the learner is not expected to deal directly with any accident or emergency but is expected to be aware of the appropriate procedures which require to be followed.

Guidance on approaches to assessment of this Unit

Evidence can be generated using different types of assessment. The following are suggestions only. There may be other methods that would be more suitable to learners.

Outcome 1

A variety of approaches may be used as appropriate to the sport and learner.

Learners are required to conduct an induction using the relevant National Governing Body document. Also, learners are required to complete the relevant PAR-Q.

Learners are required to submit a basic risk assessment for a component of a session/activity which they led. This may have been prepared by the learner in whole or in part or may be that used by the centre.

Learners are required to gather details on emergency procedures for the environment in which they are coaching. This may be an existing document or may be created by the learner or a combination of these items (eg a submitted document and learner written comment). Learners will produce a real or simulated accident report form.

Unit title: Promoting Safe and Ethical Sport: Boxing (SCQF level 4)

Outcome 2

There may be a need to support this with questions where a specific item of knowledge is not clearly demonstrated by a task. This may be in a written form or by oral questions.

Much evidence will be of a practical nature. Delivering centres may use appropriately devised checklists and/or assessor reports.

Centres are reminded that prior verification of centre-devised assessments would help to ensure that the national standard is being met. Where learners experience a range of assessment methods, this helps them to develop different skills that should be transferable to work or further and higher education.

Opportunities for e-assessment

E-assessment may be appropriate for some assessments in this Unit. By e-assessment we mean assessment which is supported by Information and Communication Technology (ICT), such as e-testing or the use of e-portfolios or social software. Centres which wish to use e-assessment must ensure that the national standard is applied to all learner evidence and that conditions of assessment as specified in the Evidence Requirements are met, regardless of the mode of gathering evidence. The most up-to-date guidance on the use of e-assessment to support SQA's qualifications is available at www.sqa.org.uk/e-assessment.

Opportunities for developing Core and other essential skills

Although skills in Communication are not formally assessed learners will be expected to present information to a standard acceptable in the vocational area. They should be encouraged to express ideas and information accurately and concisely, and to be aware of the impact of presentation on the effectiveness of promoting safe and ethical sport.

Skills in accessing and evaluating a range of sources which provide current information on professional information, the codes of conduct and ideas could usefully be developed, in order that learners are able to read and evaluate underpinning reference materials from a range of sources and electronic sites.

General information for learners

Unit title: Promoting Safe and Ethical Sport: Boxing (SCQF level 4)

This section will help you decide whether this is the Unit for you by explaining what the Unit is about, what you should know or be able to do before you start, what you will need to do during the Unit and opportunities for further learning and employment.

During the study of this Unit, you will be required to ensure that you carefully consider your requirements to ensure the health and safety of all involved in the sport.

This includes those taking part and those in the area — eg spectators and others.

You will learn how to complete an accident report form but you will not be expected to deal with a real situation on your own however you will need to know what to do in the case of an accident or emergency.

You will also learn more about the rules under which boxing operates and you will need to be aware that these can change so you must keep that knowledge up to date.

There are other legal requirements that fall under the general heading of ‘Duty of Care’ as we all have some responsibility for the safety of those around us. You will have to sign up to the required code of conduct and you will need to know about current regulations surrounding the Protection of Vulnerable Groups and of course that includes children.

The coach can be a powerful role model and you will need to consider how you can grow into that role and what exactly that entails.

The Unit is part of an award which is recognised by the Scottish Governing Body for Boxing — Boxing Scotland — and gives access to further opportunities to advance your coaching knowledge and skills.

There are opportunities to further develop your skills in Communication in this Unit as coaching involves this particular skill in some detail. The coach also needs to liaise with fellow coaches and again communication is required to do so.
