CORE SKILLS UNIT

What are Core Skills?

Core Skills are skills and abilities that everyone uses in their family and personal life, at work, in public, in the community, and in education and training.

The Core Skills are:

- ◆ Communication
- ◆ Numeracy
- ◆ Information and Communication Technology
- ◆ Problem Solving
- ◆ Working with Others

They are important because they help you to be effective in almost everything you do. That's also why employers value them.

Improving your Core Skills helps you cope with today's quickly changing world. It will make you more confident, help you to learn more easily, and improve your career prospects.

What is this Core Skills Unit about?

This Unit is about using your reading skills to read very simple documents. The documents will be based on familiar, everyday things.

If there are any words you don't understand in this Unit, your tutor will explain them to you.

What should I know or be able to do before I start?

You do not need any knowledge or experience before you start.

What do I need to do?

You will:

- ◆ work out what a piece of writing is for (for example, it could be to give instructions, to offer advice, or to persuade you to agree with a point of view)
- ◆ pick out a piece of information from a very simple non-fiction text

Your tutor will offer you time to practise your reading skills.

How do I get this Unit?

You will need to show that you have all the skills in the Unit.

You will read a very simple, short piece of non-fiction.

Your tutor might ask you questions about what you have read. You could answer the questions by writing them down or by telling the tutor your answers. The tutor might keep a note or a recording of what you have said.

What might this involve?

Here are examples of some things you might do:

- ◆ look at a fire safety notice and work out where the fire exit is
- ◆ look at a birthday party invitation and tell the tutor when and where the party is
- ◆ use a shopping list to buy things
- ◆ read a leaflet about local cinemas and state what film is on tomorrow
- ◆ look at a delivery note and say how many boxes of shampoo have been delivered

What can I do next?

You could move on to the other Communication Units at SCQF level 2:

- ◆ Communication: Listening
- ◆ Communication: Speaking
- ◆ Communication: Writing

Once you have achieved the Units at SCQF level 2, you could move on to Communication Units at SCQF level 3. Your tutor can advise you about this.

Guidance for tutors

For this Unit you should choose very simple reading material on a non-fiction topic, which conveys one or two items of information. The topic should be one that is very simple and familiar to the learner from their personal, workplace, social, or educational experiences. Texts with a practical purpose are most suitable. These are likely to include images as well as words. Vocabulary should be familiar to the learners. The text will be very brief, using a few simple sentences, and should express its content in a direct, uncomplicated way. The purpose of the communication should be very clear and embodied in conventions typical of this particular form (for example, layout, use of pictures, or other supportive material). When identifying the purpose of the document, the learner should show awareness of the context within which the information is used, for example a warning, an instruction, or an invitation.

Note: Learners must prove that they can do the whole of the task at one time. They should not gather evidence from different written documents for different parts of the task.

Further guidance is available in the accompanying Assessment Support Pack.

Disabled learners and/or those with additional support needs

The additional support needs of individual learners should be taken into account when planning learning experiences, selecting assessment instruments, or considering whether any reasonable adjustments may be required. Further advice can be found on our website www.sqa.org.uk/assessmentarrangements.
