1 Introduction

This document was previously known as the arrangements document. The purpose of this document is to:

- ◆ assist centres to implement, deliver and manage the qualification
- ◆ provide a guide for new staff involved in offering the qualification
- ◆ inform course managers teaching staff, assessors, learners, employers and HEIs of the aims and purpose of the qualification
- ◆ provide details of the range of learners the qualification is suitable for and progression opportunities

This group award specification is the result of a full review of the previous HNC and HND Retail Management awards. The review was carried out to ensure the group awards remain fit-for-purpose, capturing both existing and emerging knowledge, skills and technology within the retail industry.

The rationale for the HNC/HND remains the same as the previous awards, namely to provide learners with an appropriate mix of knowledge, understanding and skills to enhance their ability to pursue a career in the retail sector in a team leader/supervisor/manager role.

The retail sector is an organic environment which is open to change, not least the rapid pace of technological development. As a consequence the sector will continue to need managers/leaders in the future who are aware of and able to meet and adapt to the challenges of such a dynamic environment. Retailers have been forced to apply strategic marketing, management and training initiatives to keep up with the pace of change necessitating every employee in every function of the operation to work towards the same aim; customer satisfaction at a profit.

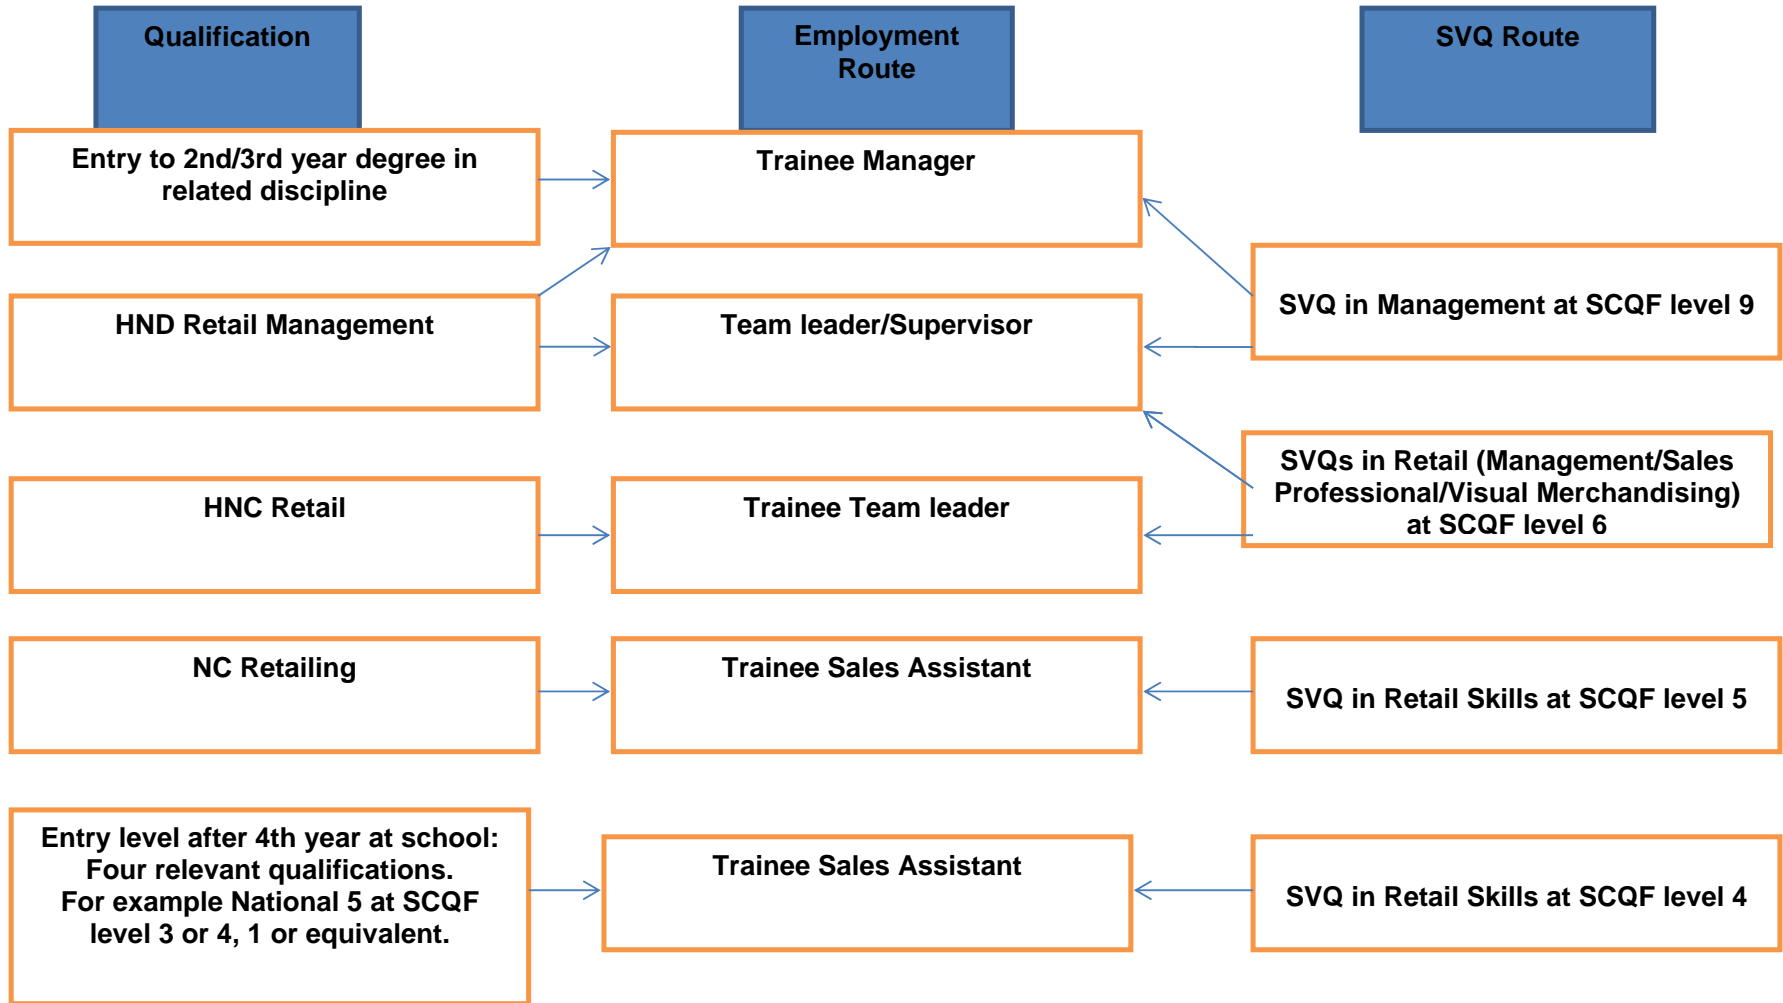

The HNC Retail and HND Retail Management allows learners to develop the skills and knowledge required to cope and prosper in this environment.

The Retail Management Group Awards have primarily been designed to develop the specialised skills required to progress in the retail industry. However, these awards also provide flexible qualifications that allow learners to develop and apply a wide range of transferable skills, which would be appropriate in whatever employment or education route a learner wishes to pursue.

The group awards can be delivered in a variety of modes, predominantly full time but there has been some limited day release/part time/evening/open learning delivery.

SQA offers a range of qualifications that support the retail sector, these and their potential progression routes in both education and employment are illustrated below

Learners must complete 30 SQA credits/240 SCQF credit points in total to achieve the HND in Retail Management.

3 Aims of the qualifications

The overall aim of the qualification is to provide an industry relevant qualification designed to provide learners with retail specific, professional and employability skills and attributes required to progress successfully in employment or education in the sector.

3.1 General aims of the qualifications

- 1 Develop learner's knowledge and skills in planning and analysis.
- 2 Develop problem solving skills.
- 3 Develop study and research skills.
- 4 Develop critical and evaluative thinking.
- 5 Develop communication skills and presentation techniques.
- 6 Develop ICT skills.
- 7 Develop personal effectiveness.
- 8 Provide opportunities for career planning.
- 9 Develop the ability to be flexible and to work co-operatively with others.

3.2 Specific aims of the qualifications

HNC Retail

- 10 Prepare for employment in the retail industry in a supervisory/team leader/manager level post.
- 11 Develop skills and understanding of the retail customer experience.
- 12 Develop an understanding of the environment in which the retail sector operates.
- 13 Develop knowledge and understanding of the managing, controlling and presenting of stock.
- 14 Develop an understanding of the underpinning concepts of management and finance.
- 15 Develop an understanding of the technological advancements underpinning the retail sector.

HND Retail Management will additionally

16. Develop a sound understanding of the current and future trends in the environment in which the retail sector operates and their impact on organisations.
17. Develop an understanding of retail corporate image and store design.
18. Develop an understanding of consumer buying behavior.
19. Broaden and deepen knowledge, understanding and skills in key areas of management, human resources, finance and marketing.

The HND can be distinguished from the HNC in terms of the:

- ◆ Likely entry point into an organisation.
- ◆ Speed of progression within an organisation.
- ◆ Level of entry into further qualifications.
- ◆ Development of underpinning knowledge of relevant SVQs.

3.3 Target groups

The awards are suitable for a wide range of learners including:

- ◆ School leavers
- ◆ Adult returners to education
- ◆ Learners in employment who wish to enhance their career prospects
- ◆ Learners who wish to start their own business and require a broad grounding in retail

3.3 Graded units

The purpose of the graded units in the qualifications is to assess the learner's ability to integrate and apply the knowledge and/or skills gained in the individual units in order to demonstrate that they have achieved the principal aims of the qualifications.

To achieve the HNC Retail Management award, learners are required to complete one single credit graded unit at SCQF level 7. To achieve the HND Retail Management award learners are required to complete one double credit graded unit at SCQF level 8, in addition to the graded unit at SCQF level 7.

A project-based graded unit will assess the application of knowledge and skills in the planning and evaluation of a given task, while an examination assesses theoretical knowledge and understanding under invigilated conditions.

Projects were chosen in preference to examinations for both the single credit HNC Graded Unit and the double credit HND Graded Unit as it was felt that a project was more appropriate for testing learner's understanding of the award's principal aims, and also would better prepare the learners for employment or further study.

The single credit graded unit for the HNC will be assessed by means of a case study, which will be based on a realistic retail business model, therefore allowing learners the opportunity to display their knowledge and skills over as wide a range of units, as they feel appropriate to cover, but which must include a minimum of three of the mandatory units.

It will also allow them to develop transferable skills, such as planning, researching executing and evaluating the given task. An additional benefit of this method of assessment is that it does not place time restrictions on learners, who wish to develop their responses in greater depth.

At HND level, one double credit graded unit was chosen, in preference to two single ones. This choice allows for greater continuity of study, and offers learners the challenge of researching, developing and evaluating an extended piece of work. It also eliminates any duplication of generic processes in planning and evaluation arising from completion of two single credit units.

As with the HNC Graded Unit case study, learners do not experience the time constraints associated with examinations, and can devote a greater amount of time developing their investigation topic and to integrate information from across a minimum of three units.

4 Recommended entry to the qualifications

Entry to this qualification is at the discretion of the centre. The following information on prior knowledge, skills, experience or qualifications that provide suitable preparation for this qualification has been provided by the qualification design team as guidance only.

Learners would benefit from having attained the skills, knowledge and understanding required by one or more of the following or equivalent qualifications and/or experience:

- ◆ An NC in a related discipline
- ◆ At least one Higher level pass together with three National qualifications at SCQF level 5 or above
- ◆ An SVQ at SCQF 5 or above in a relevant area
- ◆ Relevant work experience
- ◆ For learners where English is not their first language it is recommended that they possess English for Speakers of other Languages (ESOL) level 5 or a score of 5.5 in IELTS

4.1 Core Skills entry profile

The Core Skill entry profile provides a summary of the associated assessment activities that exemplify why a particular level has been recommended for this qualification. The information should be used to identify if additional learning support needs to be put in place for learners whose Core Skills profile is below the recommended entry level or whether learners should be encouraged to do an alternative level or learning programme.

Core Skill	Recommended SCQF entry profile	Associated assessment activities
Communication	5	Report writing, presentation skills.
Numeracy	4	Income statements, statements of cash flow.
Information and Communication Technology (ICT)	4	Use of blogs, wikis, use of Microsoft applications.
Problem Solving	4	Identify, explain and evaluate factors in relation to the changing consumer environment.
Working with Others	4	Classroom activities, group research activities, group presentations.

5 Additional benefits of the qualification in meeting employer needs

This qualification was designed to meet a specific purpose and what follows are details on how that purpose has been met through mapping of the units to the aims of the qualification. Through meeting the aims, additional value has been achieved by linking the unit standards with those defined in related national occupational standards and/or trade/professional body requirements. In addition, significant opportunities exist for learners to develop the more generic skills, known as Core Skills through doing this qualification.

6 Guidance on approaches to delivery and assessment

The HNC Retail and HND Retail Management awards are designed for learners who want to enter into positions in the retail industry at an operational, supervisory or managerial level. The awards place a heavy focus on developing learners' practical skills and their ability to apply their knowledge to the relevant environment. The awards have been developed to ensure that there is a balance of both theoretical and practical units within the frameworks. The theory will underpin the knowledge required to cope with the practical elements.

The application of practical, managerial and theoretical skills underpins the philosophy of the awards and is central to their delivery.

It is recommended that all units should be delivered in the context of the awards. Learners should be given the opportunity to apply knowledge gained in realistic and practical settings. The awards also aim to prepare learners for progression to a range of programmes of study either in higher education or workplace qualifications including SVQ routes. The awards are designed to facilitate articulation routes to a number of universities.

6.1 Sequencing/integration of units

The structure of the qualifications allows for a high degree of flexibility in the delivery mode. The awards could be offered on full-time, block-release, day release or evening modes. A distance learning delivery mode is possible providing adequate materials, tutorial support and assessment facilities exist. Combination of delivery modes is also a possibility. Such combined modes of study may enable learners to complete the awards within a shorter time period.

There are many opportunities for integrative delivery of units within each of the awards. Teaching and learning for the following units could be integrated:

- ◆ Stock Presentation/Store Design
- ◆ Retail Corporate Image/Retail Customer Experience
- ◆ Store Design/Retail Corporate Image
- ◆ Visual Merchandising/Stock Presentation

Graded units provide the opportunity for integration of knowledge and skills across the units in the award.

Support notes in each of the unit specifications identify specific opportunities for integration with other units.

Centres will define which order units are undertaken based on learner recruitment patterns, mode of delivery, resource issues and logical progression dictated by topic and unit content. Provided that adequate material and tutorial expertise existed these awards could be delivered by open/distance learning as well as on an online basis. Centre devised supervision agreements should detail controlled conditions to ensure authenticity of evidence.

The awards lend themselves to a wide range of delivery mechanisms including case studies, formal teaching, tutorial, group work, laboratory/practical work and, where appropriate, work based learning. Centres should develop clear delivery and assessment strategies taking into account the efficacy of teaching, learning, and the use of resources, modes of attendance and the need for a rigorous but not excessively demanding assessment regime.

6.1.1 Delivery schedule

There are many driving forces which determine a full-time delivery programme for any qualification such as accommodation, staff availability and materials and equipment. 6.2 Recognition of prior learning

SQA recognises that learners gain knowledge and skills acquired through formal, non-formal and informal learning contexts.

In some instances, a full group award may be achieved through the recognition of prior learning. However, it is unlikely that a learner would have the appropriate prior learning and experience to meet all the requirements of a full group award.

The recognition of prior learning may not be used as a method of assessing in the following types of units and assessments:

- ◆ HN Graded Units
- ◆ Course and/or external assessments
- ◆ Other integrative assessment units (which may or not be graded)
- ◆ Certain types of assessment instruments where the standard may be compromised by not using the same assessment method outlined in the unit
- ◆ Where there is an existing requirement for a licence to practice
- ◆ Where there are specific health and safety requirements
- ◆ Where there are regulatory, professional or other statutory requirements
- ◆ Where otherwise specified in an assessment strategy

More information and guidance on the Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) may be found on our website www.sqa.org.uk.

The following sub-sections outline how existing SQA unit(s) may contribute to this group award. Additionally, they also outline how this group award may be recognised for professional and articulation purposes.

6.2.1 Articulation and/or progression

The HNC Retail and HND Retail Management awards allow for articulation to several universities in the UK, including (at time of writing):

- ◆ Robert Gordon University
- ◆ University of Stirling
- ◆ Heriot Watt

The awards allow direct access to the retail industry in areas such as:

- ◆ Trainee Manager
- ◆ Team Leader/Supervisor
- ◆ Trainee team leader

6.2.3 Transitional arrangements

It is recommended that learners complete the programme they set out on. For learners who have partially completed and return to complete in future years, centres are advised to apply the credit transfer guidance in the following section. As there are new mandatory units in the revised HNC/HND these would have to be completed by returning learners in order to qualify for certification.

6.3 Opportunities for e-assessment

By e-assessment we mean assessment which is supported by Information and Communication Technology (ICT), such as e-testing or the use of e-portfolios or social software. Centres that wish to use e-assessment must ensure that the national standard is applied to all learner evidence and that conditions of assessment as specified in the Evidence Requirements are met, regardless of the mode of gathering evidence. SQA Academy has resources which can be used for the delivery of the unit. The most up-to-date guidance on the use of e-assessment to support SQA's qualifications is available at www.sqa.org.uk/e-assessment.

6.4 Support materials

A list of existing ASPs is available to view on SQA's website.

6.5 Resource requirements

It would be useful to have access to photoshop for the delivery of both Stock Presentation and Store Design.

7 General information for centres

Equality and inclusion

The unit specifications making up this group award have been designed to ensure that there are no unnecessary barriers to learning or assessment. The individual needs of learners will be taken into account when planning learning experiences, selecting assessment methods or considering alternative evidence. Further advice can be found on our website www.sqa.org.uk/assessmentarrangements.

Internal and external verification

All instruments of assessment used within this/these qualifications should be internally verified, using the appropriate policy within the centre and the guidelines set by SQA.

External verification will be carried out by SQA to ensure that internal assessment is within the national guidelines for these qualifications.

Further information on internal and external verification can be found in SQA's Guide to Assessment (www.sqa.org.uk/GuideToAssessment).

8 Glossary of terms

Embedded Core Skills: is where the assessment evidence for the unit also includes full evidence for complete Core Skill or Core Skill components. A learner successfully completing the unit will be automatically certificated for the Core Skill. (This depends on the unit having been successfully audited and validated for Core Skills certification.)

Finish date: The end of a group award's lapsing period is known as the finish date. After the finish date, the group award will no longer be live and the following applies:

- ◆ learners may not be entered for the group award
- ◆ the group award will continue to exist only as an archive record on the Awards Processing System (APS)

Graded unit: Graded units assess learners' ability to integrate what they have learned while working towards the units of the group award. Their purpose is to add value to the group award, making it more than the sum of its parts, and to encourage learners to retain and adapt their skills and knowledge.

Lapsing date: When a group award is entered into its lapsing period, the following will apply:

- ◆ the group award will be deleted from the relevant catalogue
- ◆ the group award specification will remain until the qualification reaches its finish date at which point it will be removed from SQA's website and archived
- ◆ no new centres may be approved to offer the group award
- ◆ centres should only enter learners whom they expect to complete the group award during the defined lapsing period

SQA credit value: The credit value allocated to a unit gives an indication of the contribution the unit makes to an SQA Group Award. An SQA credit value of 1 given to an SQA unit represents approximately 40 hours of programmed learning, teaching and assessment.

SCQF: The Scottish Credit and Qualification Framework (SCQF) provides the national common framework for describing all relevant programmes of learning and qualifications in Scotland. SCQF terminology is used throughout this guide to refer to credits and levels. For further information on the SCQF visit the SCQF website at www.scqf.org.uk.

SCQF credit points: SCQF credit points provide a means of describing and comparing the amount of learning that is required to complete a qualification at a given level of the Framework. One National Unit credit is equivalent to 6 SCQF credit points. One National Unit credit at Advanced Higher and one Higher National Unit credit (irrespective of level) is equivalent to 8 SCQF credit points.

SCQF levels: The level a qualification is assigned within the framework is an indication of how hard it is to achieve. The SCQF covers 12 levels of learning. HNCs and HNDs are available at SCQF levels 7 and 8 respectively. Higher National Units will normally be at levels 6–9 and graded units will be at level 7 and 8. National Qualification Group Awards are available at SCQF levels 2–6 and will normally be made up of National units which are available from SCQF levels 2–7.

Signposted Core Skills: refers to opportunities to develop Core Skills arise in learning and teaching but are not automatically certificated.

History of changes

It is anticipated that changes will take place during the life of the qualification and this section will record these changes. This document is the latest version and incorporates the changes summarised below. Centres are advised to check SQA's APS Navigator to confirm they are using the up to date qualification structure.

NOTE: Where a unit is revised by another unit:

- ◆ No new centres may be approved to offer the unit which has been revised.
- ◆ Centres should only enter learners for the unit which has been revised where they are expected to complete the unit before its finish date.

9 General information for learners

This section will help you decide whether this is the qualification for you by explaining what the qualification is about, what you should know or be able to do before you start, what you will need to do during the qualification and opportunities for further learning and employment.

The HNC Retail and HND in Retail Management are designed to prepare you for a variety of roles and levels of employment in the retail industry.

The awards will support you towards a career in industry as well provide a platform through which you can progress through the SCQF level. The industry has high expectations of its employees demanding highly developed social skills, which can be demonstrated through good oral and written communication skills and the ability to work productively both individually and with others.

Higher National qualifications provide practical skills and theoretical knowledge that meet the needs of employers.

The HNC in Retail (SCQF level 7) develops knowledge in areas such as retail operations, understanding the retail customer experience and the retail environment, stock presentation, finance, digital/IT skills.

The HND in Retail Management (SCQF level 8) builds on the knowledge and skills of the HNC and also enhances knowledge and skills relating to retail corporate image and store design, marketing, current trends in the sector, consumer buying behaviour and management.

The optional units in both qualifications allow you to specialise in particular areas of the industry, such as international retailing, retail buying and merchandising.

The programmes are demanding, however experience in delivering the awards has shown that learners who enter their chosen award with at least the minimum entry qualifications and who show commitment by attending classes regularly and completing the work demanded on time, do successfully achieve their award.

The language used in the learning and teaching within these awards is English and therefore learners wishing to pursue this course of study should have English language skills at an appropriate level. ESOL programmes may be available for you if you require pre-access learning in English language. The level for entry is an International English Language Test score of 5.5

Assessment

Units will be assessed using a variety of assessment styles. Some will be class based, some home based. Some may be open-book assessments and others will be closed-book assessments. Integration of assessments between units will take place where appropriate, which will lessen the assessment burden.

The graded units will be delivered and assessed towards the end of year one and year two. These units will be using the knowledge and understanding gained from all the other units and will get you to apply this knowledge. Graded Unit 1 is a case study and Graded Unit 2 is an investigation. They are marked and graded A, B or C.
