Introduction

This document contains instructions for teachers and lecturers, marking instructions and instructions for candidates for the Higher Art and Design expressive portfolio. You must read it in conjunction with the course specification.

The expressive portfolio is worth 100 marks. The marks contribute 38.5% of the overall marks for the course assessment.

This is one of three course assessment components. The other components are a design portfolio and a question paper.

This expressive portfolio has three sections.

Section 1: process	40 marks
Section 2: skills	50 marks
Section 3: evaluation	10 marks

Instructions for teachers and lecturers

Setting, conducting and marking the expressive portfolio

The expressive portfolio assessment task allows candidates to demonstrate their ability to work independently and is sufficiently open and flexible to allow personalisation and choice.

Before candidates undertake the expressive portfolio assessment task, teachers and lecturers must ensure that they have the necessary skills and are aware of the requirements of the assessment.

The expressive portfolio assessment task is:

- ◆ set by centres within SQA guidelines
- ◆ conducted under some supervision and control
- ◆ submitted to SQA for marking

All marking is quality assured by SQA.

Assessment conditions

Time

Candidates develop their expressive portfolio in response to an expressive theme or stimulus. It is produced over an extended period, allowing them to develop and refine their work before it is presented for assessment.

Supervision, control and authentication

Teachers and lecturers must ensure that evidence submitted by a candidate is the candidate's own work. Candidates do not need to be directly supervised at all times.

Resources

There are no restrictions on the resources that candidates may access while producing their expressive portfolio.

Reasonable assistance

Candidates can seek clarification regarding the expressive portfolio assessment task if they find it unclear. In this case, the clarification should normally be given to the whole class.

If a candidate is working on their portfolio and is faced with more than one possible solution to a problem, then the teacher or lecturer may explore options with them. The teacher or lecturer and candidate can discuss the pros and cons of each option. The candidate can then decide on a solution based on the discussion.

Once a candidate has decided their expressive portfolio is complete, and has submitted it to their teacher or lecturer, it must not be changed by teachers, lecturers or the candidate.

Candidates must complete their evaluations on the SQA template. Teachers or lecturers must not provide model answers or writing frames to help candidates complete their evaluation.

Evidence to be gathered

Volume

Candidates can present their work in a variety of ways; however, the overall maximum size for the expressive portfolio must not exceed three A2-sized, single-sided sheets or equivalent. All work selected for the expressive portfolio must occupy its own space on the sheets. The expressive portfolio must fold to a size not exceeding A1 for submission to SQA. The evaluation must be attached to the first sheet and must not overlap work or extend beyond the three A2 sheets or equivalent.

There is no word count.

Candidates must use the evaluation template provided by SQA.

More information on portfolio submission is available on the Higher Art and Design subject page.

Marking instructions

In line with SQA's normal practice, the following general marking instructions for the Higher Art and Design expressive portfolio are addressed to the marker. They will also be helpful for those preparing candidates for course assessment.

Candidates' evidence is submitted to SQA for external marking.

General marking principles

Always apply these general principles. Use them in conjunction with the detailed marking instructions, which identify the key features required in candidates' responses.

- a Always use positive marking. This means candidates accumulate marks for the demonstration of relevant skills, knowledge and understanding; marks are not deducted for errors or omissions.
- b If a specific candidate response does not seem to be covered by either the principles or detailed marking instructions, and you are uncertain how to assess it, you must seek guidance from your team leader.
- c When marking the portfolio, you must refer to specific descriptions of competence for different mark ranges and allocate marks for each section of the portfolio using a 'best fit' approach.
- d The band descriptions define the expected level and the standard of evidence expected at the mid-point of the band range. Select the band descriptor that most closely describes the evidence, before calibrating accordingly within the mark range. The examples below illustrate this.

Section 1 of the portfolio includes a three-mark range. When you have decided on the 'best fit' mark range, use your professional judgement to allocate a mark as follows:

- ◆ If the candidate's evidence almost matches the level above, award the highest available mark from the range.
- ◆ If the evidence does not meet the standard described, award the lowest mark from the range.
- ◆ Otherwise, award the mark from the middle of the range.

Section 2 of the portfolio includes a six-mark range. When you have decided on the 'best fit' mark range, use your professional judgement to allocate a mark as follows:

- ◆ If the evidence almost matches the level above, award one of the two highest marks in the range.
- ◆ If the evidence does not meet the standard described, award one of the two lowest marks in the range.
- ◆ Otherwise, award one of the two middle marks in the range.
