

Delivery

You will complete the units sequentially within a framework of 5 modules titled:

- Policing in Scotland
- Managing Dilemmas
- Managing Opportunities
- Leading People
- Managing Research

It should take approximately 18 months to complete the award.

The award has been designed to be developmental in nature and as such should provide you with many of the skills, both general and specific, that are required of managers and supervisors in the Scottish Police Service.

The award will be delivered by distance learning and supported jointly by the Scottish Police College and the candidate's force/agency. Assessment will be a mix of formal examination, essay, case study and reflective report.
