

Knowledge and Skills

To undertake this award, you will need to have a good working knowledge of general procedures and you should have good analytical skills and good written and verbal communication skills.

You should also have an understanding of organisational structure and the factors that can influence change in an organisation and how to manage that change

You will be required to carry out research throughout this award.