

Are you an employer worried about making redundancies?

Phone the PACE national redundancy helpline on 0808 100 1855 for free and impartial advice and support

Or visit the PACE website
www.skillsdevelopmentscotland.co.uk/redundancy

PACE can help your business to:

- provide advice on alternatives to redundancy
 - maintain and improve industrial relations
 - link businesses into local support services
- provide potential for positive media coverage
- provide employees with tailored support to help them access jobs and training
- link businesses to ongoing skills development services.

PACE (Partnership Action for Continuing Employment) is central to the Scottish Government's Economic Recovery Programme, in particular the commitment to provide support to businesses and employees facing redundancy situations. Led by Skills Development Scotland, through providing skills development and employability support, PACE aims to minimise the time people affected by redundancy are out of work. PACE has recently been enhanced and is undergoing a continuous improvement programme to meet the demands of the current economic climate.

Are you facing redundancy?

Have you been made redundant?

Phone the PACE national redundancy helpline on 0808 100 1855 for free and impartial advice and support

Or visit the PACE website

www.skillsdevelopmentscotland.co.uk/redundancy

PACE can help you to:

- identify future career and training options and the steps needed to achieve them
- access a wide range of Government funded training in colleges, higher education institutions and training providers to improve your skills and increase your chances of finding work
- find your way back to work, check what benefits you may be entitled to and help with job seeking
 - find out how to start up your own business
 - access job vacancy information
- construct powerful CVs and application forms and prepare effectively for interviews.

PACE (Partnership Action for Continuing Employment) is central to the Scottish Government's Economic Recovery Programme, in particular the commitment to provide support to businesses and employees facing redundancy situations. Led by Skills Development Scotland, through providing skills development and employability support, PACE aims to minimise the time people affected by redundancy are out of work. PACE has recently been enhanced and is undergoing a continuous improvement programme to meet the demands of the current economic climate.

