SECTION 1 — CATULLUS — 15 marks

Attempt ALL questions

1. Refer to Poem 4 (nulli se dicit . . .).
Give one example from the text which shows that Catullus does not trust Lesbia.
Explain your choice. 2
2. Refer to Poem 6 (miser Catulle, . . .).
- (a) In lines 1–2, Catullus writes that he has been acting foolishly (ineptire). Explain why he feels this way. 2
- (b) In lines 3–8, Catullus remembers a happier time.
Discuss his choice of words in these lines which show that he and Lesbia used to have happy times together. 3
3. Refer to Poem 7 (cenabis bene, . . .).
Identify examples of humour in this poem. 4
4. Refer to Poem 9 (Asinius Marrucinus, . . .).
- Lines 1–5 describe the behaviour of Asinius Marrucinus.
Lines 6–8 describe his brother Pollio.
- (a) Discuss what these descriptions tell us about the sort of behaviour found at Roman dinner parties. 3
- (b) Which brother do you think would be more fun to be with at a party? Explain your choice. 1

SECTION 2 — OVID — 15 marks

Attempt ALL questions

5. Refer to Extract 2, lines 7–10 (nam ponit . . . aves).
- (a) Daedalus made wings for himself and for his son Icarus.
Describe how he made them. 3
- (b) Read lines 10–15 (puer . . . opus).
Identify evidence in these lines which shows that Icarus was young. 2
6. Refer to Extract 2, lines 25–29 (inter . . . nido).
Daedalus and Icarus are preparing to fly.
Give details of the simile in these lines. To what extent do you think it helps the reader to picture the scene? Explain your answer. 4
7. Refer to Extract 2, lines 42–48 (tabuerant . . . dicebat).
Discuss how Ovid makes the death of Icarus seem sad. Refer to the text to support your answer. 3
8. Refer to Extract 3, lines 5–9 (“Indeed” . . . “circle”).
Consider the story of Talus.
Why do you think the Romans were impressed with a boy like Talus? 3

Read the following passage carefully, including the English sections, and then translate all the Latin sections into English.

The Sword and the Stone

Aegeus, the King of Athens, married Aethra, daughter of the king of Troezen, but then he decided to leave her.

Aegeus, rex Athenarum, urbem Troezenem visitavit. ibi in matrimonium duxit Aethram, filiam regis. haud multo post, Aegeus domum redire constituit. itaque solus Athenas profectus est, Aethra relicta.

Hoping that Aethra, now pregnant, would have a son, Aegeus thought up a clever way to recognise him, after he had grown up.

sed antequam discessit, Aegeus gladium sub magno saxo celavit. deinde rex Aethrae explicavit
5 cur hoc fecisset. “cum primum filius noster possit saxum tollere et gladium auferre, mitte eum ad me. per hoc signum, eum agnoscam.” brevi tempore, filius natus est quem Aethra appellavit Theseum.

As her son Theseus grew up, Aethra encouraged him to try to move the rock.

quotannis Aethra Theseum ducebat ad locum in quo pater gladium celaverat, ut saxum tollere conaretur. diu Theseus frustra conabatur, sed tandem, iam adulescens fortis, saxum movere
10 potuit. cum primum gladium invenisset, statim Athenas festinavit.
