This renowned, friendly music festival, which recently celebrated its 25th anniversary, takes place every summer in the unique setting of the Western Isles, the heartland of Gaelic language and culture.

The festival promotes the islands’ heritage, including the area’s vibrant traditional music that is both part of the islands’ history and contemporary life.

Here you will see the best local musicians and leading Scottish, United Kingdom and world musicians — both new and famous bands. The wide variety of music and exceptional talent has been a mainstay of the festival over the years.

Little wonder then that the festival is a diverse blend of sights and sounds — true to Celtic traditions but also open to new ideas and influences.

The festival offers a warm welcome to those who return from the mainland to their family and friends and also to visitors who come back year after year to experience more of the islands’ music and culture.

Join us in the summer for our annual gathering and find out for yourself why this music festival is so special. With tickets selling fast, make sure you don’t miss out!
