Outcome 2

You can use both formative and/or summative evidence to demonstrate that a candidate can produce misconduct and match reports in both formal letter and pro forma styles.

Candidates must produce a minimum of one caution report and one ordering off report using typical pro forma, and one match incident report. If one or more pieces of completed pro forma evidence is not available, use your professional judgement to assess the evidence available, to demonstrate a candidate's formal and objective essay-style writing.
